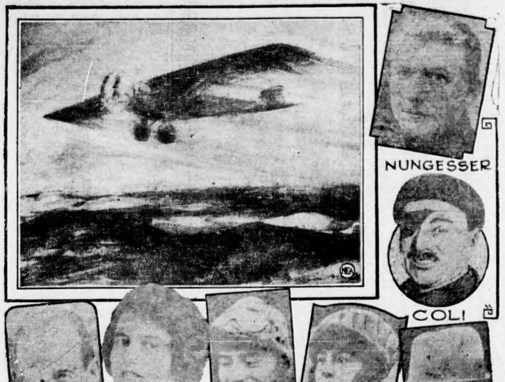
COMMISSIONERS ENDORSE C.P.R. PLAN

VICTIMS OF WESTWARD FLIGHT



Here are the ulysees of the air, who perished in attempts to span the Atlantic ocean in a single flight from east to west. A complete record of similar attempts follows:

May 8, 1927—Nungesser and Coli, French pilots, abord the "White Bird," never sighted ater leaving the Irish coast.

August 14, 1927—False starts by two German planes, the Europa and Bremen, each carrying three passengers.

August 31, 1927—Princess Lowenstein-Wertheim, Captain Hamilton and Colonel Minchen, in the "St. Raphael," took off from England. Never heard from again.

October 4, 1927—Junkers seaplane D-1230 left Germany with Lilli Dillenz, Vienese actress, as a passenger. Flight abandoned at the Azores.

October 20, 1927—German seaplane D-1220 hopped to the Azores; wrecked in a heavy sea off Horta.

March 13, 1928—Captain Walter Hinchliffe and the Hon. Elsie Mackay left England aboard the "Endeavor." Never were heard from after passing the Irish coast.

BREMEN WILL END LONG HOP BY STEAMSHIP

Koehl and Huenefeld Find Repairs to Plane Impossible—Tell Story

MONTREAL, April 17.—The German trans-Atlantic fliers this morning decided that repairs could not be made to the Bremen on Greenley Island, where they landed after their journey across the ocean. This was learned through advices from wireless operators who have been in touch with Greenely Island this morning. It was understood that Baron von Huenefeld now intends to fly with his companion, Captain Koehl, to Murray Bay and there board the Junker plane sent from New York and today in Montreal. With Major Fitzmaurice, who made the oceanic hop with them, they would fly from Murray Bay to New York. The Bremen will be taken to Halifax by the Canadian government ice-breaker Montcalm.

Montcalm Takes Plane

OTTAWA, April 17.—A wire was received by J. E. Gobell, general superintendent of the government telegraphs, at Ottawa today which read as follows:

"Nine-thirty a.m. Seven Islands reports crew of Bremen on board Canadian Transcontinental hydroplane, piloted by Dr. Cusinier and Duke Schiller, jointly, will arrive at Murray Bay about noon. A Junkers plane from New York will take Fitzmaurice, Baron Huenefeld and Captain Koehl direct to New York .Stop: Montcalm to take Bremen to Halifax for repairs."

Schiller Safe

QUEBEC, April 17.—At 2 p.m. this afternoon a telephone message from Murray Bay tended to allay the fears that had been aroused regarding the whereabouts of the Schiller plane with Major Fitzmaurice on board. It

REAR ADMIRAL COLLARD GETS RETIRE ORDER

LONDON, April 17—Rear Admiral Bernard St. G. Collard, central figure in the famous Royal Oak affair, involved in the court martialling of Captain Kenneth G. B. Dewar and Commander H. M. Daniel, has been relieved of his command and placed on the retired list.

Announcement of this was made when the house of commons convened today after the Easter recess by W. C. Bridgeman, first lord of the admiralty, in a long-awaited address on the Royal Oak controversy.

Blame With Collard

Mr. Bridgeman said that the board of admiralty was of the opinion that the initial blame for what happened aboard the Royal Oak lay with Admiral Collard in dealing with trivial causes of dissatisfaction in a manner unbecoming his position and showing himself unfitted for high command. Therefore, it had been decided in

Governor Al Smith Will Be Absentee

ASHEVILLE, N.C., April 17—Governor Alfred E. Smith, of New York, candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, will not attend the national Democratic convention at Houston in June.

Governor Smith, on vacation here, made this formal announcement at a conference with newspapermen today. Asked if he might no change his mind, he said:

"No, I meant that I will not attend. There's no use of my going."

Flamenwerfers Used Against Insect Mob

JERUSALEM, April 17.—Clouds of locusts appeared over Jericho yesterday afternoon but were checked in their advance by the wind. The department of agriculture today was attempting to exterminate them with flame guns.

Travellers from Trans-Jordania said they passed through five miles of locusts between Maan and Amman.

BUILDING WILL COST $25,000, SAY OFFICIALS

Chapel to Be Included—Order Enjoys Remarkable Growth

Construction of a new $25,000 annex to the Precious Blood monastery at 11105 100th avenue will be started as soon as the necessary plans are completed, according to an announcement made by the Mother Superior Tuesday.

The new wing will include a beautiful chapel and more ample accommodation for the sisters.

The order has progressed wonderfully since coming to Edmonton. In the year 1925, on the invitation of his Grace Most Rev. H. J. O'Leary, archbishop of Edmonton, a monastery was opened at the present location.

Six sisters came from Toronto to open the monastery, and in spite of the rigidity of the rules, which require absolute seclusion from life in the cloister, many young girls have been attracted to the order, and today there are 28 sisters in place of the original six.

The society is entirely self-supporting, all of its revenue coming from the manufacture of church supplies.

CLEAN-UP TO BE GREATEST IN EDMONTON

Committee Arranges Details at Meeting Held Monday

Believe it or not, but spring, long delayed, is now upon its way, and steps are being taken to welcome it with one of the most successful spring clean-up campaigns in years.

On Monday afternoon the executive of the clean-up campaign met in the board of trade rooms and decided important points in this year's drive.

If Dr. Whitelaw and Ald. C. L. Gibbs had their way every backyard would have a fence or hedge so constructed as to have alcoves for the ash and garbage cans. It is certain that this spring will see more attention being paid to the back yards and lanes than ever before. This will be an added factor to be considered in judging for the distribution of prizes in the Community leagues.

Bill Brockie reporting for the finance committee, has collected to date $1,047.50, and has every reason to believe that this fund will reach $1,500. The city council has generously donated $500 to this total. He also reports that three leading advertising firms have offered him free outdoor advertising.

A special committee composed of Archie Rendall, Ald. C. L. Gibbs and Bill Brockie will appoint a secretary-manager for the campaign.

In a special motion which passed and carried all chairmen of the standing sub-committees were urged to select their co-workers at once so that they could report progress at the next meeting to be held on Friday, April 20, in the board of trade rooms.

Those attending the meeting were: Archie Rendall, chairman, F. W. Doherty, T. Housley, G. Farnham, Mrs. E. L. Hill, Dr. Whitelaw, Ald. C. L. Gibbs, B. Brockie, F. W. Kemp, W. J. Cardy, W. J. Drane.

Plan Basis For Waterway Work

Protracted Discussions Between Governments of Canada and U.S.A. Made Public—Canada's Initial Expenditure Will Be More Than $400,000,000—Kellogg Wants St. Lawrence Treaty

OTTAWA, April 17.—Canada to consider providing for construction of the waterway in the sections wholly Canadian, that is, the Welland ship canal and the works in the St. Lawrence below the international boundary.

The United States to consider undertaking the completion of a 27 foot waterway to the head of the lakes, in addition to meeting the entire cost of the development, under joint technical supervision on lines to be agreed upon, of the international section of the St. Lawrence, both for navigation and power.

This, in brief, is the suggested basis of negotiation submitted by the Canadian to the United States government on the St. Lawrence waterways scheme as revealed in correspondence made public by Premier King last night. The documents give not only correspondence exchanged between the two governments, they include the report of the Canadian national advisory committee, observations by two members of the advisory committee who do not concur in certain essential features of the majority report; and the documents also include copy of an order in council passed on Saturday giving revised terms of reference to the supreme court on the respective power rights of the dominion and the provinces.

The suggested basis of negotiation appears in the report of the Canadian national advisory committee and is submitted in a letter written by Hon. Vincent Massey, Canadian minister at Washington, to secretary Kellogg of the United States. In his letter, Mr. Massey continues:

"The construction of the wholly Canadian (Welland and St. Lawrence) sections and, if the United States should see fit, on the upper lakes works, would, on this plan, be given precedence of the international section, because of the necessity alike of providing for further consideration of the engineering problems involved in the international section and of permitting reasonable absorption of the power developed on the Canadian side."

Canada Would Spend $400,000,000, U.S. Share $383,000,000, to Start

Included in Mr. Massey's note is a balance sheet, submitted by the advisory committee, showing the cost to Canada of present and proposed works, as $400,830,000. The cost of present and proposed works to the United States is given as $383,183,000.

Secretary Kellogg replied to Mr. Massey that the United States "is inclined to regard as an acceptable basis of negotiation a proposal along the general lines submitted in your note". Mr. Kellogg continues: "Whether the United States expends its share of the cost on the international section and Canada its share on the national sections, would seem to be immaterial if, in the negotiations, there is a fair division of expense for a through deepwaterway to the ocean." But Mr. Kellogg demurs at inclusion on the Canadian side of the balance sheet of the costs of the St. Lawrence and old Welland canals "except so far as they may be of use to the deeper system." "These works,"

PRISONERS AT FORT ESCAPE

Hiding in the brush along the river bank until darkness overtook them, two prisoners, Joe Gardeski, 30, and Emil Boucher, 30, made their escape from the Provincial jail at Fort Saskatchewan late Saturday afternoon, and have not been apprehended.

The men were engaged in cutting brush at the time of their escape, and their absence was not noted for some time. Gardeski is a Pole and was serving a term for false pretences, while Boucher is a half-breed six feet tall and was doing time for horse-stealing.

Sir Henry Drayton Quits Commons Seat

TORONTO, April 17—Sir Henry Drayton, M.P., who has been appointed to the chairmanship of the Ontario liquor control board, succeeding D. B. Hanna, who will retire, left for Ottawa tonight to place his resignation as member for West York in the hands of the speaker, Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux.

Quake Rocks Many Towns in Mexico

MEXICO CITY, April 17.—Press despatches today said several towns in the state of Oaxaca were believed to have been destroyed in the earthquake which rocked southern Mexico last night. No casualties have been reported. The shocks were most violent in a large zone in Oaxaca, and many buildings collapsed in Oaxaca City. Others were so severely shaken that their collapse was threatened. These included the government house.

The majority, of the buildings in Pinotepa and Textepeo were damaged. The shocks were strong at eVra Cruz, and buildings all over the city rocked.

Poincare Aided by Three Former Chiefs

PARIS, April 17.—Continuance of the administration of Raymond Poincare, once president of France and three times its premier, is the principal issue in the parliamentary election that will be fought out on April 22.

And by one of those reversals of fortune that French politics often afford, he goes into the campaign with the support of M. Briand, M. Herriot and M. Painleve, the triumvirate that caused his downfal four years ago.

Veteran of Naval Battle Praises Picture at Capitol

G. W. Heard Says British Super Film Gives True Version of Great Contest

It couldn't be more realistic. To me it was just the same as living it all over again. Of course I couldn't see or tell what went on as far as the rest of our ships were concerned, but that's just what happened and how it looked from 'Invincible'."

That's first hand praise from G. W. Heard of 11919 92nd street, now an employee of the Edmonton post office, but on December 8, 1914, a blue-jacket aboard the battle cruiser Invincible when Admiral Von Spee's squadron was sent beneath the waves of the South Atlantic at Falkland Islands. Heard had just witnessed the film "The Battles of Coronel and the Falkland Islands' at the Capitol, where the all-British naval film is playing for the first three days of this week, and he waxed enthusiastic as he described the running fight which finally ended with the destruction of the German fleet.

"It was a secret affair from the time we left Devonport," he said. "I was on Invincible. We were coaling in harbor at the Falkland Islands, having only just arrived the day before, when word was received that Von Spee and his ships were outside. Before we could get the colliers cast off and steam up they had sighted us, and turned and ran. But we rushed everything and took after them, catching them up late in the afternoon. It was just as the picture shows it. We got even for 'Good Hope' and 'Monmouth' then with interest. Only one boat of theirs, Dresden, got away, and they got her soon afterwards, so we more than evened up the score."

Heard also was on the Invincible in the Heligoland fight, and saw her go down at Jutland while standing by on H.M.S. Badger, to which ship he had been transferred thirty days previously. His own souvenir of the war he carries in a scar over the eye from a piece of shell which struck the decks of Invincible in the Falkland Islands battle. He was also one of a few survivors when his ship went down later in the war, and he floated around for four hours before being picked up.

Counsel Try to Find Casualties at Mons

OFFICIALS OF DEFENCE DEPT. PUT ON STAND

Sir Arthur Currie Starts $50,000 Libel Suit Against Preston

COBOURG, Ont., April 17.—Col. John A. Currie, Toronto, in the witness box at the trial of Sir Arthur Currie's libel action, this afternoon was threatened by Mr. Justice Rose with imprisonment for contempt of court and severely rebuked for an answer as to General Currie's military character.

Col. Currie began that his testimony was based on a statement by General Sam Hughes and His Lordship told him this matter had already been ruled out. He was directed carefully concerning his answers.

COBOURG, April 17—Four witnesses were examined this morning when the hearing of the libel suit for $50,000 brought by General Sir Arthur Currie against W. T. R. Preston and F. Wilson was resumed.

Much time was spent on the matter of unit war diaries and their exact purport. One witness, Hubert Cooke, had a copy of the Fourth Brigade war diary, and counsel for defence, Frank Regan, sought to have extracts from it put in evidence. It was pointed out by Mr. Justice Rose that the original war diary was in court in possession of Colonel Archer Duguid, and this officer was put on the stand. Much questioning arose as to why the Fourth Brigade had noted from day to day their casualties or absence from casalties from November 1 to November 9, but on November 9 the unit had grouped on that date all the casualties incurred from November 9 to November 11 inclusive.

Questioned as to the relevancy of some of his questions, Mr. Regan declared that he believed there was a determination to refuse disclosure of the true state of afafirs respecting casualties in the Canadian corps on Armistice Day.

Appalling Loss

Seven witnesses were heard Monday in the libel action against W. T. R. Preston, at one time Liberal organizer for Ontario, and F. W. Wilson, publisher of the Port Hope Guide. The action has been taken on account of an article published in the Port Hope Guide on June 13, 1927, which charged that during the military operations which ended in the entry of the Canadian troops into Mons on November 11, 1918, there had been a deliberate waste of human life, that the losses had been "appalling," and that the attack had been undertaken to glorify the Canadian headquarters and staff.

Council Receives Reports

Suggests Price of $100 an Acre for Land on Right of Way

Canadian Pacific Railway applications for purchase of the 18 or 20 acres of land required to bring the Cutknife-Whitford branch into Edmonton, and for the securing of lots 104 to 112 in block 9, Hudson's Bay Reserve, near the present C.P.R. depot on 109th street, went forward to a special meeting of the city council Tuesday afternoon with favorable recommendations from the commissioners.

In the first instance a price of $100 an acre was suggested, while in the second instance the company offer of $25,000 cash was considered to be adequate by the commissioners.

Property Needed

The Cutknife-Whitford branch of the C.P.R. will enter the city limits at the southeast corner, and traverse the following city-owned property:

Block 1, Bellevilla Gardens; Blocks 3, 4, 8, part of X and lot 2, Block 5, Grove Park; Blocks 1 to 4, Edmonton City Heights; Blocks 6 and 7, Rosedale, and part of the N.W. one half of section 16-52-24-4, the Rist farm. All of these properties have reverted to the city for taxes, with the exception of the Rist farm, which was purchased in 1912 by the city of Strathcona for industrial site purposes. This property of 134 acres was purchased for $65,000, and the 6.72 acres required for the right of way is assessed at $100 an acre. The total assessed valuation of the rest of the tax sale property included in the offer is $1199.00 and the cost to the city is $1126.62.

Company to Pay Costs

The railway will, at its own expense, make all necessary surveys and registrations, including street and lane openings and closings, and will take care of all land damages, if any, while the city reserves easements for public utilities such as water, gas, sewer, telephones, electric light and power on the portions of the streets and lanes closed.

All costs as to transfer, registration, survey and other costs are to be borne by the company.

In the offer of $25,000 for the lots near the present C.P.R. depot on 109th street, the company undertakes to assume the extra cost of any future subway on 102nd avenue underneath the railway tracks of the C.P.R. occasioned by reason of the extension easterly of the railway yards to the lands referred to, over and above the cost of construction under conditions at present existing between 110th and 111th streets.

All Claims Waived

The company also waives all claims in respect to their property in connection with such subway, and relieves the city of any claims arising from the closing of any street which may be found necessary.

Allow Canadians to Cross Border Free

BUFFALO, N.Y., April 17—Six naturalized citizens of Canada were allowed to commute across the international border to work in this country under a decision handed down today by District Judge John R. Hazel. The decision ended several weeks of controversy between immigration authorities and counsel for the Canadians. The decision sustained writs of habeas corpus which were obtained by six residents of Niagara Falls, Ont.

Premier Brownlee Returns Friday With Decision as to Midsummer Session

SCHOOL BOARD OPENS TENDERS FOR BUILDING

New Structure May Be Named After Chegwin Sisters

Tenders by contractors for the erection of the new Spruce Avenue school, which will be constructed north of the present Norwood school providing a bylaw authorizing the expenditure is passed by the burgesses, were opened at the meeting of the Edmonton Public School board Monday night.

The contractors tendered on two plans, one for a 12-room building and the other for a 20-room building. The lowest price for the smaller construction was $151,523.40, made up of Pheasey & Batson's general contract of $108,554; Standard Heating and Plumbing figure of $38,893, and the electrical contract presented by H. H. Depew at $4,076.40.

On the 20-room construction the lowest figure was $185,371.40. The lowest general tender was presented by H. G. MacDonald and was $137,904. The Standard Heating and Plumbing estimate was $42,627 and H. H. Depew's tender, $4,840.40.

Immediate Vote Needed

With an immediate decision by the burgesses needed, a special meeting of the school board will be held Thursday to consider the whole matter of the bylaw vote.

The board this year have put into operation a system of asking for tenders on a building before the bylaw is presented to the public as the latter will know the exact cost of construction before they exercise their franchise. The lowest tenders in the case of this school were still about $26,000 in excess of the estimate prepared by building commissoiuer H. Story.

It is possible that the new school will be named "Chegwin school," in honor of the Misses Kate and Emma Chegwin, whose long record of devoted service to the people of Edmonton through the public schools is unequalled in any western city.

Emma Chegwin, teacher at the Queen's avenue school since 1902, retired last year after having failed to miss one teaching day in that long period. Kate Chegwin, of Oliver school, secured a leave of absence early this year as a result of failing health following 27 years' work in the local schools.

A motion by Elmer E. Roper that the school be named the "Chegwin" is on the agenda and likely will be dealt with at the next meeting.

Debate Is Stormy

A motion tendered by the committee of finance regarding the financing of the work on the new school, met a stormy session before it was passed. It called for authority for Secretary M. H. Gilmour to obtain from the board's solicitors a form of debenture on the sinking fund plan for 40 years with interest at not more than 5 per cent on: (a) the erection of the new Spruce Avenue school; (b) the erection of the proposed Oliver school; (c) the renovation and modernization of the old King Edward school; (d), the purchase of additional school sites.

S. A. G. Barnes stated that separate bylaws for presentation to the burgesses were needed on these, as possibly a person desiring to vote for one item and not for another would find that he would have to pass or defeat it all. Elmer E. Roper countered with, "We should give no opportunity to citizens to express sectionalism. If a school is needed in one district it is to the best interests of the whole city that it be erected."

The matter will be presented to the board of public utilities for a ruling.

Site Turned Down

The now famous "brewery site," considered as an ideal site for the erection of a city school except that it is across the street from a brewery, again was turned down by the board Monday night. T. J. Ducey offered to sell the land at $10,000 on terms.

A. E. Rosborough, representing the Edmonton High School Teachers' Alliance, and E. J. Humphries, representing the public school teachers' organization, were severely criticized by Chairman W. W. McBain, and for several minutes the meeting became heated with the air charged with potent fireworks.

The clash came when Dr. Frank Crang brought in a resolution that teachers who teach cadet classes in the schools and who receive an annuity for this service from the federal department of militia, have this sum deducted from their school board salary cheque. Mr. Rosborough and Mr. Humphries came to the defence of these teachers.

The two teacher-representatives also tangled with the board when Dr. Frank Crang suggested that teachers were taking advantage of the sick leave system and were taking an extra day in their week-end holidays. Mr. Rosborough jumped to his feet and said, "There has been a serious implication that the teachers have been taking advantage of this. Well, just let me tell the board that you have been loading heavier and heavier burdens on the teachers and they are breaking under the strain."

Later Mr. Rosborough countered:—"We are utterly discouraged with the attitude of the students. We blame someone in the department of education. One reason is that they have lowered the standard necessary for a student to pass in a subject and as a result the children are not putting forth their best efforts."

IRISH FLYER TO GET SPARE PARTS IN QUE.

MONTREAL, April 17—While Capt. Koehl and Baron Von Huenefeld were hard at work repairing the trans-Atlantic monoplane Bremen, damaged in landing on Greenely Island last Friday, Major James Fitzmaurice, Irish member of the German-Irish trans-Atlantic east-to-west flight, was today awaiting favorable weather at Natashquan, Que., a small settlement 250 miles from Greenely Island, to hop off for Murray Bay, on his way to Quebec, in order to obtain the required parts needed for the smooth-running of the Bremen. Major Fitzmaurice is being brought to Quebec by Duke Schiller in a Canadian Airways plane.

That it was the intention of the three fliers to reach New York, their announced destination, upon leaving Baldonnel field together, was made apparent yesterday.

To Pick Up Fitz

Messages received from various points indicated that Major Fitzmaurice would either stay in Quebec and await the arrival of his German companions there, who according to a report last night, intend to have the Bremen repaired by Wednesday and hop off for Quebec and pick up Fitzmaurice on their way to New York or that the Irish flier would return to Greenely Island and resume together with Captain Koehl and Baron Von Huenefeld their interrupted flight to the United States metropolis.

The steamship Montcalm is still fighting her way through ice to Greenely Island. It is considered possible that if the Montcalm manages the voyage, and damage to the Bremen is more serious than at first thought, the Montcalm may bring the Bremen to Quebec for repairs, the flight to New York to be continued from that point.

A message received from Baron Von Huenefeld last night stated that the damage to the Bremen consisted of injuries to the wheels, cabin and propeller.

When Major Fitzmaurice reaches Murray Bay he will be welcomed by newspapermen and cameramen assembled from most of the press associations and news reel outfits of North America.

Miss Junkers and her associates arrived at the Montreal flying field yesterday from New York in the Junkers plane, F-13. Her future movements will depend largely on word that comes down from Greenely. She has announced the intention of supplying the sister plane with any parts necessary from her plane, the parts being interchangeable.

Fraulein Junkers

MONTREAL, April 17—"We have come to Montreal in order to study more closely the "Bremen" situation, but there is little possibility of our flying on to Greenely Island," Fraulein Herta Junkers, daughter of the Bremen's designer and manufacturer, said on arrival late yesterday at St. Hubert airport in a Junkers F-13 cabin monoplane from Curtiss field, New York.

Fraulein Junkers, who alternated at the controls with Fred Meechlir, was also accompanied by her brother, Ehrard Junkers, 19. The flight from New York was made in three hours and fifty minutes.

The length of the fliers' stay in Montreal will depend entirely on the news that comes from the Bremen's crew, said Fraulein Junkers. It was decided to approach more closely the scene at which they descended, and it was thought that more help could be rendered by them in being present in Canada.

New Planes Needed

DUBLIN, April 17—Before the dream of ocean air service is ever realized, the public must be prepared for something entirely different in aeroplanes and engine construction than that obtainable at the present time, according to Col. Fitzmaurice, member of the successful Bremen monoplane trans-Atlantic flight.

Before he started on his hazardous adventure, Colonel Fitzmaurice gave his views to the Associated Press on the future of trans-Atlantic flying and civil aviation in Ireland, which he believes, because of the island's geographical position, will have a great future. He visualizes the day when Ireland will be the focal point, the air route of all Europe converging here before taking the direct line to America.

The commandant of the Free State air force declared valuable scientific data could be obtained by the present trans-Atlantic flight, but admitted that flying the great ocean today, in the Bremen or any other plane, was largely "a stunt."

"Planes and engines of the future wil be unlike anything we have seen so far," he said. "Personally, I conceive the plane of the future as a great single wing with passengers inside of it, soaring across the ocean, the machine being propelled by engines totally unlike anything we have today. They must be propelled by some sort of concentrated fuel or by an engine which will do what the Diesel model has for mariene engineering."

Commandant Fitzmaurice takes no stock in flying the Atlantic by stages, using landing platforms in mid-ocean and other such contrivances. He believes in making one long hop, like the Bremen's.

SEVEN ISLANDS, Que., April 17.—This barren spot on the north shore of the Gulf of St. Lawrence, where the second plane of the Canadian Transcontinental Airways company landed yesterday, is isolated by a storm which swept the coast today. The plane left Lake Agnes, near Murray Bay, yesterday, with the intention of flying to Greenely Island as weather permitted.

King Winter appears to have set in for a second reign, and hardship is anticipated for many of the little wind-swept settlements unless milder weather follows shortly.

License Return Of City Shows Large Increase

Business is on the boom in the city licensing department. To date this department has collected $39,930.20 in revenues for business licenses, bicycle licenses, and dog tags.

Businesses show a healthy increase, there being 1765 licenses granted so far this year as against 1728 for the same period last year. Bike riders are also on the increase, numbering 1334 against 1274 in 1927.

But the dog tag business has gone to the bow-wows. Last year at this time 2693 dog licenses were taken out in Edmonton at this time, but this year there are 157 less licensed dogs in the city.

FLOOR CREAKS; COURT MOVES TO TOWN HALL

With practically the whole town turning out for the legal battle, Rex. versus Max Stacklies, charged with intoxication, police officials at Stony Plain Monday afternoon were obliged to move the scene of action into the town hall when the floor of the courtroom threatened to give way under the load of the crowd which jammed into the building.

Justice of the Peace F. McCormick presided at the hearing.

When the floor began to creak and bend, lawyers and policemen jumped for the corners and bellowed to the people to maintain order. Battling their way out of doors the crowd called for more convenient quarters.

The town hall was unlocked and the court case heard there. The hearing was featured by the evidence of a witness who claimed to have smelled liquor on Stacklies while looking at him through a window. He was persuaded that this was impossible and the accused was acquitted. P. G. Thomson of Edmonton defended.

AIRSHIP WILL MAKE FLIGHT INTO CANADA

STOLP, Germany, April 17.—Confident that the Italia is able to withstand the rigors of an Arctic flight, General Umberto Nobile, commander of the Italian Polar expedition, announced today that no trial flights were planned for the dirigible before its start for King's Bay, Spitzbergen, its northern base.

"The Italia showed her mettle so well there is no point in testing her out once more," said General Nobile. "I will wait for word of the Citta Di Milanos arrival at King's Bay and in the meantime quietly conclude our scientific preparations."

Commander Zappi said the first trip from King's Bay, where the Citta Di Milanos will provide a mobile base, would probably be to Lenin Land. Two or three others, including a flight to the pole, will follow, and finally one will be made to the Mackenzie river in Canada. He added:

"If King's Bay should prove unsuitable as a base, there is a possibility that we would return to Stolp each time."

U.S. to Probe Big Nuisance From Trail

WASHINGTON, D.C., April 17.—President Coolidge today recommended the appropriation of $40,000 for the expenses of investigating conditions in the state of Washington arising from the drifting of poisonous fumes from the smelter works at Trail B.C.

The estimate was submitted by the state department in accordance with the treaty with Great Britain in 1909 covering the reference of boundary matters to the international joint commission. Since the commission does not have the facilities for making the investigation, it is proposed to have it made by the department of agriculture.

Estimates Taken Up by House of Commons

OTTAWA, April 17—The house of commons adjourned abruptly Monday night and the correspondence between Canada and the United States respecting the St. Lawrence waterway was not tabled.

Following consideration of a number of government bills in the house Monday night, Hon. James Malcolm, minister of trade and commerce, who was leading the government at the time, announced that estimates would then be taken up.

ALBERTA GOVT. HAS NOT SOLD ITS RAILWAYS

Hon. Vernor Smith Back in City After Trip to East

No sale of the Alberta government-owned railroads has been effected to date according to Hon. Vernor W. Smith, minister of railways and telephones, who returned to the city on Tuesday morning after a two week and a-half trip to Ottawa and Montreal with Premier J. E. Brownlee.

Conferences were held with both Sir Henry Thornton and E. W. Beatty, K.C., presidents, respectively, of the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific railways, said the minister, but they were continuing their study of the problem along the lines submitted in the amended joint offer placed before the last session of the legislature.

Sir Henry was interviewed first and Mr. Beatty second. Mr. Beatty was seen on the last day of the minister's stay in Montreal and his final word was that a further interview would be held with Sir Henry Thornton.

May be New Offer

Hon. Mr. Smith could not say whether a new offer would be made. This would be determined no doubt by the conference between the two railway heads. Asked whether any intimation had been given by either president regarding a new offer for the Alberta and Great Waterways railway, the minister said he presumed it was being considered in connection with the Edmonton, Dunvegan and British Columbia line.

The minister and the premier parted company at Montreal, the former coming home by way of Toronto and the premier going by way of Chicago. En route the minister visited the Welland canal now in course of construction, at a cost of $125,000,000. It is 24 miles long, he said. The largest steam shovel in the world, capable of loading cars raised 60 feet above it, was in use. Some sections of it will be completed within the next year.

J. S. Walker, director of fish hatcheries for Western Canada states that a hatchery for the propagation of lake trout may be built at Cold Lake. Mr. Walker left Monday to visit the whitefish hatchery at Lesser Slave Lake.

City to Cut Down Number of Concerts at Public Parks

Faced with an ultimatum from the Musicians union that bands playing in city parks this year must consist of a minimum of 24 men, the city is cutting down the number of band concerts in 1928. Last year there were 11 concerts during the season, but this year there will only be 7.

The cost per concert last year when a minimum of 20 men was allowed was $88, but this year with the increased number of bandsmen it will be $104, and the city is meeting the situation by cutting down the number of concerts. An appropriation of $792 has been set aside for concerts.

spite of his good services in the past to retire him.

The first lord of the admiralty also stated that the board had confirmed the sentence against Captain Dewar and Commander Daniel, who were severely reprimanded and dismissed from their ships for their part in the controversy with the rear admiral which came to a head during a dance at Malta aboard the Royal Oak.

Having by such confirmation sufficiently marked its disapproval of the action of these officers in the matter, the board had decided that the sentences should not preclude them from further employment in the service should such suitable vacancies arise.

Rear Admiral Bernard St. G. Collard had a distinguished record in the British navy, being made a Companion of the Distinguished Service Order in 1918, and a Companion of the Bath in 1926. He was rear admiral in the first battle squadron of the Mediterranean fleet at the time of his suspension from duty when the Royal Oak affair took place.

Born in 1876, he entered the naval service in 1890, became a captain in 1915 and a rear admiral in 1916. His services included participation in the Great War and in the years immediately preceding the war on the naval staff intelligence division.

In 1915 he was assistant beach master on one of the sections of Gallipoli, where British forces landed, and was invalided home as an outcome of his services in that famous campaign. From 1915 until the end of the war he commanded the monitor, Lord Clive, in the Dover patrol.

PUBLISH TALKS OF GOVERNMENTS

he adds, "are understood to be for lighter craft and of little value for the purpose of the works now proposed. These waterways are understood to have served their purpose in economic returns. It would also seem to be necessary to differentiate between the costs that may properly be chargeable to navigation and those to power in general. Those who now or in the future profit by the power should bear their share of the expense."

U.S. Anxious for St. Lawrence Treaty; Canada Is Not so Keen

Throughout the correspondence between the two governments, there is evidence of American urgency for a St. Lawrence waterway treaty and of Canadian hesitation.

Mr. Massey observes that "partly as a result of the existence of competitive alternative outlets," Railway rates are, in general, lower in Canada than in the United States. "It is apparent," he remarks, "that the United States will benefit much more from the enlarged navigation facility both in extent of use and in margin of saving."

He points out that public opinion in Canada is opposed to the export of hydro power.

"Canadian agriculture," Mr. Massey remarks at another point, "is more directly affected by the restrictions on the importation of Canadian farm products which have been imposed by the United States in recent years, with the object, it is understood, of assisting agriculture in those western states which would share so largely in the benefits of the proposed St. Lawrence waterway. This situation, and the effects upon the maritime sections of Canada; United States duties on the products of the fisheries are among the factors which have contributed to bringing it about that public opinion in Canada has not so clearly crystallized in favor of the waterway project as appears to be the case in the United States.

To all this, secretary Kellogg replies that the Uniter States has the Panama canal and the Gulf of Mexico. New York is served by the Erie canal. Philadelphia, Baltimore and Norfolk have a shorter railroad haul from the Great Lakes to the Atlantic than has Canada. And, after dealing with other points in the Canadian note, secretary Kellogg proceeds:

Kellogg Advises Naming of Probe to Discuss Whole Plan

"I have the honor to suggest, therefore, that the two countries proceed with the appointment of commissioners to discuss jointly the problems presented in your note, and those which I have presented herein with a view to the formulation of a convention appropriate to this subject."

The Canadian government rejoins that it shares the view of the Canadian national advisory committee that a conference should be held between the Canadian section of the joint board and engineers representing the province of Ontario. It points to constitutional difficulties and the intention to refer to the supreme court of Canada question of jurisdiction as between the dominion and the provinces. The dominion government will consult aspects of the project with Ontario and Quebec and "will then be in a position to inform the government of the United States further of its attitude on the proposals contained in your note."

Secretary Kellogg agrees that there is no reason why the dominion government should not concur with the provinces and, in his last word, returns to a treaty; "I have the honor to suggest however," he says; "that it would seem as though the entire subject of treaty negotiations need not be postponed until the termination of these discussions and of the reconsideration by the joint board of engineers and that it might be desirable for the negotiations to go on concurrently with the examination of such engineers as their advice and assistance would be necessary."

The report of the Canadian national advisory committee regards the St. Lawrence project feasible from an engineering standpoint. It recommends that, should the project be undertaken, there should be a 27-foot navigation depth in the reaches rather than the 25-foot navigation proposed by the joint board. The committee considers however, that the question of advisability of the project depends upon the successful solution of a number of financial and economic difficulties and upon further consideration of certain of the engineering features as to which the two sections of the joint board of engineers are not as yet agreed.

National Advisory Committee Was Backed Up by Government

On this Mr. Massey comments to Mr. Kellogg, "I am instructed by the secretary of state for external affairs to inform you that his majesty's government in Canada concurs in these conclusions of the national advisory committee."

Messrs. Leman and Turgeon, the minority members of the advisory committee, hold that Canada would not be well advised to segregate the project into sections. "It would not seem proper," they observe "that Canada should surrender to the United States the credit, responsibility and initiative of developing the Great Lakes and the St. Lawrence river outside of the province of Quebec. These navigable waters are as much the property of Canda as of the United States. What may prove an important factor in the development of the western provinces should not be left to the sole care and attention of the United States."

INTERVIEWS AT OTTAWA HELD SATISFACTORY

No Decision Yet Announced, However, as to Result of Mission

Whether a summer session of the Alberta legislature will be called, as has been intimated might be necessary, in all probability will be known by the end of the present week. Premier J. E. Brownlee, who has been in the east since the end of March, is expected to return to the city Friday and the results of his trip will be known then.

His main purpose was to hold further consultations with Sir Henry W. Thornton, president and chairman of the board of directors, Canadian National Railways, and E. W. Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, in respect to the amended joint offer for the Edmonton, Dunvegan and British Columbia, Central Canada and Pembina Valley Railways and regarding a new offer either jointly or separately for the Alberta and Great Waterways Railway.

Interviews Satisfactory

While no information has been given out which would indicate what has been transpiring, the premier has been quoted as stating that he has had "satisfactory" interviews.

Another issue which doubtless will have a hearing on a summer session is the question of amalgamation between the Alberta Provincial Police and the Royal Canadian Mounted.

Saskatchewan has concluded an agreement with the dominion government whereby the "Mounties" absorb the Saskatchewan Provincial Police on June 1 and among the items of the agreement is the payment by the province to the dominion of $175,000 a year. The dominion has offered to do the same work in Alberta for about $210,000 a year, the difference between the two provinces being that a greater number of men would have to be added to the force in Alberta.

Believe Demands Met

At the last session of the legislature Premier Brownlee intimated that before Alberta would enter into an agreement of that nature the question of local autonomy or provincial control of the R.C.M.P. in this province would have to be decided to the province's satisfaction. He said that this was particularly true in regard to industrial strikes, a problem more acute in Alberta and Saskatchewan.

As Saskatchewan has been satisfied on all points, it is more than likely that Alberta's demands have been met and the premier undoubtedly will have some announcement to make in this respect.

The other main question, that of the Spray Lakes power development, appears to be well on the way to settlement.

"Throw it away, my little man," he urged, "throw it away" But the little man appeared somewhat surprised at what he evidently considered the coolnes of the request.

He took a deep, enjoyable puff, and then looked at the benevolent one, with pity in his eyes.

"I'm sorry for yer, matey,' he said, "strite, I am. I know what it is to be down on me luck. But yer can't go shares wiv this. Go an' find one for yerself!"

PIRATES TAKE CHINESE SHIP

HONG KONG, April 17.—Fifteen pirates, disguised as passengers, overpowered the officers of the Chinese steamer Hsin-Wah Saturday and took possession of it. They ordered Captain Jensen to steer for Samchau Inlet, Bias Bay, the notorious pirate stronghold.

There, the cargo and the belongings of the passengers were transferred to sampans. Five Chinese passengers were carried off to be held for ransom.

While the pirates were transferring their booty, a Chinese gunboat appeared. The pirates hurried for the shore. A landing party was sent afterm, but they escaped after a chase of two hours.

The Hsin-Wah, which was en route from Shanghai to Hong Kong at the time of her capture, later proceeded here with the gunboat escorting her.

CAPT. GERRIE, LEGION PADRE, LAID TO REST

Great Tribute of Esteem Is Paid to Clergyman's Memory

THE SOLDIER'S FRIEND
In Memory of Capt. Rev. J. P. Gerrie.
By Edward Kent

Always a kindly word and smile,
For those he met each day;
Comforting them in grief and pain,
Soothing their cares away;
Nothing was too much trouble to him,
Their sufferings to allay.

And when from a weary bed of pain,
Some soldier's soul had passed,
He'd console the widow and the child,
Whose tears were running fast;
While at the edge of the open grave
He blessed him at the last.

And now we must live without him!
And some one must take his place;
But we'll never forget his manly form
And his kindly, cheerful face.
God! to live something like him,
Oh, give us strength and grace.

Rev. Capt. J. P. Gerrie, beloved padre of the Canadian Legion, who worked untiringly for Canadian soldiers for 14 years, was laid to rest Tuesday afternoon.

A private service was held in the home of the late chaplain at 2.15 p.m. and was followed by a military service at the Memorial hall at 3 p.m, at which soldiers from the highest rank to the privates, paid their humble tribute to the man who had helped them in their times of spiritual need, attended.

At the request of Rev. Capt. Gerrie, made upon a slip of paper just before he died Sunday morning at the University hospital, Delbert McFarland sang, "The Lord is My Shepherd," while the services were conducted by Rev. C. F. McIntosh and Rev. Capt. J. C. Bowen, life-long friends of the deceased.

Request Observed

Among the hymns requested by Rev. Capt. Gerrie before he died were, "O, God, Our Help in Ages Past," "Abide With Me," "Under the Hills," "O Love that Will Not Let Me Go," and several of these were rendered at the services.

The pall-bearers were Col. F. C. Jamieson, Col. W. G. MacFarlane, Col. C. Y. Weaver, Capt. Wilfred Baker, Capt. K. C. McLeod and Rev. Capt. G. G. Reynolds. These men were close personal friends of Capt. Gerrie and it was at his request as he saw life fading away that they acted as pall-bearers.

Bands of the First Battalion Edmonton Fusiliers and the Forty-Ninth Battalion preceded the funeral cortege to the graveside at the Edmonton cemetery. The flag-draped gun carriage was guarded upon each side by R. C. M. P., who also turned out to pay tribute to their departed friend. At the graveside the Fusiliers fired the last volleys over the grave and Sergt. C. H. Styles sounded the last post as the casket was slowly lowered.

NATION LEAGUE DAY OBSERVED

League of Nations day is being celebrated throughout Canada today, declared Alan Harvey in addressing the Gyro club at its regular weekly meeting at the Macdonald hotel. The League of Nations Society in Canada had launched a week's campaign for new members commencing Monday and it was hoped that many more would be interested in its activities.

The society was organized six years ago at Ottawa with the purpose of promoting international peace, disseminating league information, studying international problems, promoting international understanding and organizing provincial and local organizations.

It was decided that a stag bridge would be held at the hotel on Friday evening, April 27.

Several selections were given by the club orchestra under the direction of Graydon Tipp, which were much appreciated. A program was put on by the club members and included an address on "Journalism."

Acceptance of an offer of $5000 cash for lot 180, Block 2, Hudson's Bay Reserve, made by Williams and Young, wholesale agents, who propose to erect a warehouse of brick construction costing from $25,000 to $30,000 on the property forthwith, is being recommended to council by the commissioners. The assessed value of the lot is $8000 and the cost to the city $5442.-03, while the list price is $6500.

GUELPH, Ont., April 17.—Fire destroyed the Castle theatre here early today, nothing but the bare walls being left standing at eight o'clock. The loss is placed at $100,000 on the building alone, the equipment adding possibly $15,000 extra.

Four stores in the building were also completely gutted.

Intrepid Ocean Flyers Crossed Atlantic; Arrived Here 'Broke'

MONTREAL, April 17—Everybody is liable to go "broke" but it is not given to every person to fly across the ocean and then find they have only silver and not so very much of that in their pockets. This is exactly what happened to the crew of the Bremen when them landed at Greenely Island. Latest indications show that from the shillings and pence in their pocket they might have lived for three or four days, but to eat steadily was another proposition.

This very important affair was arranged by Junkers Company, in New York, through the Canadian National Telegraphs, and after exhaustive inquiries, it was ascertained that a relief plane was being sent to the island from Murray Bay, Que. This information was secured but a short time before the plane was to leave, but fortunately real money instead of a wire ordered, was secured and when the airplane left it carried silver and bills to cover the extent of their "eats" therfore, the three intrepid fliers were enabled to continue "living on the fat of the land".

said the Schiller plane, with Major Fitzmaurice, was still at Natashquan, according to a Canadian National telegraph message.

The message was received from the Canadian National operator at Bersimis, who said he had received the message from the Canadian National operator at Natashquan. The message added that Schiller and Fitzmaurice had been unable to take off on account of the storm. This message when handed to officials of the Canadian Transcontinental Airways at Murray Bay was regarded as genuine and solving the absence of the plane from any of the points at which it might have landed during the forenoon.

Nurse Tells Story

ST. JOHN, N.B., April 17.—New matters in connection with the notable flight of the Bremen westward across the Atlantic are disclosed in an interview with Baron Huenefeld, leader of the intrepid party, received by the Evening Times-Globe and Telegraph-Journal this afternoon by wireless through the Red Head station and relayed thence by telephone. It came from Miss Greta Ferris, of St. John, a nurse on the Labrador medical mission.

It stated that a party from the mission station at Blanc Sablon, learning of the landing of the Bremen, travelled 15 miles by dog sled to Greenely Island to lend what aid they could to the airmen.

The communication says that the baron was cold and nearly exhausted when he landed and had nearly lost hope of ever reaching land, that he was prepared to shoot his companions if the worst came to he worst. The first words of the men when they arrived, uttered both in English and German, were:

Modest Heroes

"Thank God!"

Their first meal with the lighthouse keeper and his wife, consisted of biscuits and fresh milk. The trio, said Miss Ferris, were all very modest when refering to their wonderful feat.

Miss Ferris' message, as it came by wireless to Red Head, this afternoon was as follows:

"Bremen 36 hours Dublin to Greenely Island. Fog most of the way. Arrived noon Friday, April 13. Mistook lighthouse for steamer frozen in ice. Lost bearings and compass inaccurate. Plane broken, injured axle, bent propeller. Stil in same position. Plane hoisted on gasoline tank and boards.

"Baron cold and exhausted, feared that they would never reach land. Ready to shoot companions if worst came to the worst. Baron came at once to lighthouse where given dry footwear. Refused to eat until his companions left plane first.

Cold Is Felt

"First meal was biscuits and fresh milk. Baron feels the cold and anxious to reach New York. Fitzmaurice says Labrador is not Ireland—is warmer there. Koehl does not complain. All very modest. Most thankful to have accomplished such a feat.

"First words of all arriving, in different languages were:

"Thank God."

"Spent first night at the lighthouse with keeper and family. Stil' there. Koehl celebrated his thirtieth birthday on April 15. Grenfell workers drove 15 miles with nine Eskimo dogs to extend mission hospitalities to heroes. Work too pressing and distance too great by dog team for flyers to accept.

"The plane "G. C. A. I. P." from Murray Bay, Canada, arrived Sunday at 4 p.m. to give relief. "G. C. A. I. P," returning to Murray to get new under carriage and other equipment for damaged plane. Photographed plane and Fitzmaurice with Irish-Eskimo dogs.

"Steamship Montcalm within 100 miles of disabled plane coming to assistance. Much ice in the strait. Four men cross ice from Flowers Cove Sunday to get information and to see plane. Specially privileged here and allowed to examine plane without interference. No guard.

"Autographs obtained from the heroes. First Canadian autographs. Baron kissed our hands when bidding adieu. Koehl carries aeroplane mascots sent him from Berlin with black pig given him before leaving Dublin attached.

"(Signed) Greta Ferris."

Romantic India Film Will Be Shown in Edmonton Wednesday

Lowell Thomas Production Has Created Great Enthusiasm

Vivid descriptions of life and scenes in India given by Lowell Thomas, noted explorer, author and lecturer, thrilled crowded houses that greeted his recent appearances in western cities. He will be in Edmonton Wednesday, when he will appear at the Empire theatre to present his film sensation and illustrated lecture, "Romantic India."

At 4:15 in the afternoon, there will be a special matinee for school children, who should be out in hundreds to see this great educational film. Those desiring to see the matinee will be permitted to leave school at 3:30, instructions to that effect having been given by Supt. G. A. McKee. There will be the regular evening show at 8:30. Mr. Thomas is appearing in this city under the general auspices of the National Council of Education and the local auspices of the Edmonton Rotary club.

"The lecture was profusely illustrated by film and other pictures describing vividly the wonderful scenery, the magnificence and the poverty from the landing at Cape Comorin through the tropical Travancore to "the land of spices," Cochin, the city with a curse, the sacred city of Madura, in the course of which the castes, the outcasts, the Brahims and the Untouchables are portrayed," says the Manitoba Free Press of April 10.

This great picture took two years to make, while Mr. Thomas covered 60,000 miles in India and into forbidden Afghanistan. Seats are on sale at Mike's News Stand, or at the theatre all day Wednesday.

Students at the Separate schools also will be given permission to attend the matinee lecture.

Griffin Gravelling Bid Recommended

Grading and gravelling tenders recommended by City Engineer Haddow after a survey of the figures submitted are that T. W. Griffin, who has had considerable city experience in work of this nature, be awarded the 1928 contracts.

The Griffin tender is the lowest of the three submitted, being $60,157.75. Other tenders received were W. E. Gibb at $61,148.75 and MacDonaldo and Clarke, $67,133.90.

Richard Henry Lee was one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence for the state of Virginia.

Empire Shopping Week Will Open Here Next Saturday

Prince of Wales Is Patron of Movement—Special Displays of Goods in City

Empire Shopping Week, which commences next Saturday and continues until April 28, affords all citizens an excellent opportunity, not alone to display their patriotism, but to buy goods made within the Empire and prove to their satisfaction that they are well worth buying the year round.

In establishing an Empire Shopping Week, those leaders of commerce and industry who form the executive committee under the patronage of H.R.H. the Prince of Wales, have had no thought of upsetting economic laws. Governments of British countries throughout the Empire, however, have been reflecting what they think to be the feeling of their populations at large by granting a preferential rate of customs duties or their equivalents to assist the entry of goods produced or made in other parts of the world.

Pupils in many Canadian schools will be told about Empire-made goods and the executive committee will do all in its power to bring to the attention of the public all the products made within the Empire and some of the underlying motives relative to trade.

In Edmonton the Canadian Manufacturers' Association is co-operating to the fullest extent with the central committee. Special displays of goods will be made in stores and offices. Merchants will decorate their windows with Empire-made goods, and the public as a whole will have every opportunity of becoming familiar with the vastness of the Empire's resources and the multiplicity of its products.

L. E. FRANKLIN CHARGED WITH SHULTZ DEATH

Exclusive to Bulletin

DRUMHELLER, April 17.—The jealous anger of a husband enraged at what he believed to be the illicit relations of his wife with Ray Shultz, farm laborer, of Chancellor, led to the appearance in court here of Lewis E. Franklin, accused of the murder of Shultz in a lonely farmhouse where all three principals in the tragedy had been formerly employed. The case opened before Mr. Justice Tweedie and was adjourned Monday evening after four witnesses had been heard.

Walter Watson, owner of the farm where the alleged crime was committed, said he was at one time employer of both accused and deceased. Franklin left in the spring of 1927, but Mrs. Franklin and Watson stayed on. There had been trouble between the two before, he stated.

Thomas A. Ross, who lives near Rosebud, said that on the night of the tragedy, Friday, February 17, Franklin arrived at his house armed with a shotgun and said he had walked from the Watson place. Roy Steadman, a blacksmith, told the Court that on February 10 Franklin had borrowed a shotgun, similar to one produced in Court, with which, it was alleged, the fatal shots had been fired. Constable Hannah, A.P.P., produced photographs of the scene of the house where Shultz was shot. Shultz, he admitted, had the reputation of being a "go-getter," who carried a gun and a knife wherever he went.

F. C. Moyer is appearing for the ac- with Joseph McKenna prosecuting.

Police Chief Asks Uniforms For Speed Cops

Here's glad news for the motorist! If a recommendation of Chief of Police Shute goes through all speed cops are to be uniformed hereafter, and there will be none of that sad disillusionment when the racing driver finds that the civilian on the motorcycle he tried to pass is in reality a plainclothes speed cop.

The commissioners do not know what caused the chief to make his recommendation, but they believe it to be a good one. If the chief's idea is carried out there will be three traffic men on point duty, and three on motorcycle duty, all uniformed.

Owners of Gariepy Block Will Spend $5,000 on Repairs

Giving the Canadian National downtown offices a plate glass front on Jasper avenue and along McDougall avenue for a distance of nearly 100 feet, alterations and rearranging of the Gariepy block at a cost of nearly 5,000 is announced today.

In addition to putting in the plate glass fronts the top floors of the block are to be reinforced to enable the C. N. Telegraphs to instal additional telegraph machinery, and the whole of the interior of the block is to be remodelled and brought up to date. The work is being done by L. F. Toby.

Another permit taken out this morning is for the erection of a brick wall for the property of Barootes Brothers at 10112 Jasper avenue. The wall is made necessary by the demolition of the old corner building to make way for the new Canadian Bank of Commerce being carried out at a cost of $3,000.

Pimples Itched And Burned Badly Cuticura Healed

"Pimples broke out on my nose and spread all over my face and body. They were hard, large and red, and festered and scaled over. The pimples itched and burned so badly that I scratched, and scratching caused many eruptions. They were so painful that I could not sleep, and used to cry from the pain. The trouble lasted two years.

"I purchased some Cuticura Soap and Ointment and after using them two days I found they were helping me. I continued the treatment and after using four cakes of Cuticura Soap and three boxes of Cuticura Ointment I was healed." (Signed) Miss Lucy Kinakin, Verigin, Sask.

Make Cuticura Soap and Ointment your every-day toilet preparations and have a clear, sweet skin, soft, smooth hands, and a healthy scalp with good hair. Cuticura Talcum is unexcelled in purity.

WORTH WORKING FOR

The winner in the baby beef competition brought his owner a price of 72 cents a pound, live weight. The winner in the calf feeding contest sold for 56 cents a pound. Other prize-takers went for 22 cents, 21 cents and 15.75 cents, respectively. In all, 44 animals were auctioned off, the prize calf netting the fortunate owner the sum of $575.

The prices obtained for prize-winning cattle provide no small inducement to stockgrowers to fit cattle for the spring show. So far as money is a consideration, the prize is mainly desirable because of the market value it places upon the winner. Among farm boys and girls particularly, the rewards which have come to successful exhibitors this season should stimulate a desire to get into the show ring next year with animals of prize-winning quality.

DISTURBING THE ELEMENTS

The secret is out. A ship captain who buffeted his way across the Atlantic in the teeth of howling gales and mountain waves says the radio broadcaster is throwing figurative monkey wrenches into the meteorological machinery, and is responsible for snow in Egypt, storms on the high seas, cold weather along the Riviera and, inferentially, the general backwardness of spring in Europe and America.

The skipper may be wrong. But then he may be right. There is only one way of telling. And after having the windows on his promenade deck smashed by Atlantic rollers, he is entitled to a guess as to what is responsible for the damage. He says the broadcasters are shooting so many electrical waves into the atmosphere that they are building clouds, stirring up winds, and generally raising elemental pandemonium. The thing is worth putting to the test. Suppose the radios lay off for a while and give spring a chance.

PRIVATE ENTERPRISE TAKES A HAND

Another plant is to be established at Fort McMurray to try out methods of extracting the bitumen from the tar sands. While the immediate purpose is experimental, rather than commercial, a considerable sum of money is to be spent on the undertaking, which will mark another step toward the utilization of this very extensive resource. That the plant is to be installed by a company means that private enterprise is to supplement the investigation carried on by engineers of the Dominion and Provincial Governments and at the University.

In other fields of endeavor the private investor usually pioneers the way. Where he is enlisted to second the efforts of government he invariably proves to be a powerful ally, and not infrequently gains success where government has failed. That the investor is to take a hand in trying to find out how to make the tar sands available in a commercial way may be assumed to mean that development of the sands is believed to be profitable if the right method of treatment can be found. A new and powerful stimulus is thus given to the quest for the right method.

TIME TO CLEAN UP

Plans for Edmonton's spring clean-up are being made on a more elaborate scale than usual, but on a scale that is not out of keeping with the task, nor with the importance of the end in view. Six months of winter and semi-winter conditions have left the back yards littered with a varied and interesting accumulation of rubbish, and front yards, streets and public places also in more or less disorder. Buildings and fences have suffered from weathering in proportion to the length of the winter. It is time to start picking up and raking up, and burning the trash, and fixing and painting. Those who feel the urge need not, of course, wait for the official opening of the campaign. It is strictly in order to obey the impulse any time now.

There are a good many reasons why the cleaning-up should be made thorough, and also why it should be followed by a liberal use of hammer and nails and the paint brush. Health demands that the tin cans and rags and bones and bottles be collected and disposed of. Conservation requires that the ravages of time be repaired, and that deterioration of buildings and fences be stayed by coating them with paint. And, also worthy of consideration, the value of property will be to some extent affected by the amount of attention that is given to setting things in order and giving private and public premises an attractive appearance. Edmonton will be visited by a good many strangers this year. It is important that they be given a favorable impression of the place, and thus encouraged to locate here or to invest here.

REV. J. P. GERRIE

Thousands of returned men, and thousands of other Edmonton citizens who learned to know him and of him chiefly through his ministrations to the returned men, will regret with peculiar keenness the passing of Rev. J. P. Gerrie. What the going of their Chaplain means to the members of the Canadian Legion, only they can know. All who are aware of the type of man he was and the service he rendered will remember him as a kindly gentleman, a faithful minister, and a citizen of the kind that any community can ill afford to lose.

Sleet

By DR. FRANK CRANE

All through the day and night they rushed along,
Braving the Irish gales and winning through;
Above, the sky; below, Atlantic's blue
The frail ship, stronger than the wind was strong;
A few more hours and then the shouting throng!
They would be first so brave a feat to do,
And then a mist across their faces blew
And ice like jewels on their wires was strung.

The foes of men are many. Death contrives
Numberless pitfalls for the adventurous souls,
It has an endless means of taking lives
And keeping brave hearts from their far-flung goals.
Man's triumph over all is not complete,
For the unconquered monarch of the air is sleet!

Swindling the Preacher

By EDGAR E. GUEST

A Chicago Theological Seminary has just completed a survey or questionnaire investigating the amount to which preachers are swindled.

Its results show that the clergyman who escapes being swindled in the course of his ministry is an exception.

Every sucker list contains the names of many ministers, which makes them an easy prey for a sales talk.

The city pastor seems to be more worldly wise than his country cousin.

Ministers were asked five questions:

1. Have you ever been swindled by professional crooks?
2. If so, how, in your present opinion, could the swindle have been prevented?
3. Do you believe in punishing such crooks?
4. How may they be detected?
5. Have you any counsel to pass on to other ministers?

Almost all of the preachers said they had been swindled at various times in amounts ranging from a five-dollar bill given to a stranger with a plausible, heart-rending tale, afterwards found to be false, to thousands of dollars, lifetime savings, usually in oil and mining stocks.

Dr. Ozora S. Davis, President of the Chicago Theological Seminary, drew up these maxims:

Build a reputation for investigating.

Don't rely too much on your own judgment. Send the applicant for aid to the proper charitable organization. Consult a lawyer on important business dealings.

Don't give your card to strangers, or letters of recommendation to men, organizations or plans with which you are not fully conversant. You may be an innocent aid to a swindler.

And last, study people.

One point that Dr. Davis makes should be stressed. Use charitable organizations. A great deal has been said about their coldness and heartlessness, but much of it is due ot the fact that they investigate every case they help and are much better prepared to investigate it than you are.

Don't let your sympathies run away with your judgment.

Most of the ministers seem to be more concerned with the spiritual than the material reaction of the swindler. They fear that the constant swindling of ministers might make them "hard boiled" or distrustful of their fellow men.

The minister sitting alone at home, or in his office is usually more easily approached than a business man who is safeguarded by his staff.

Plans are being worked out at the school to train ministers in business and to prepare them against possible swindlers.

The preacher should remember that helping an unworthy man or a fraud is the most efficient way to harm him, and his help should be given only to those who actually need it. This for the sake of the poor rather than the ministers' sake.

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK McCOY

Diet Specialist and Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

Questions on Health and Diet Answered by Dr. McCoy, when addressed in care of The Edmonton Bulletin

TYPES AND HABITS

We are confronted at all times with the problem of understanding different personalities.

It takes a good deal of study along the line of metaphysics to realize why one person is as different from another as a dog is from a fox.

Dr. Frank McCoy

It is not true that all humans are shaped the same, even physically—let alone mentally. While each man who is normal will have one head, two ears, two arms and legs, yet, one will be tall and the other short. While another is thin of waist, his brother may even be burdened with a fifty-inch circumference!

How are we to account for these great physical differences when we are supposed to be made in the image of the Creator? The answer is explained very simply if we are to accept the belief that we are what we are because of our habits of thinking, eating, exercising, working, etc. It is true, we are all born with certain tendencies to physical growth, but any leaning, for instance, toward thinness, can be easily corrected by a proper change in physical and mental habits which will encourage the growth of a beautiful and symmetrical form.

In some respects we are born with the same raw physical material to be worked over into various shaped bodies according to the habits we acquire.

We are also born with some definite impulses often called instincts such as to avoid danger, to obtain food and warmth, to seek the opposite sex, and so on. But even from these natural desires we acquire a great deal of misery because of the inhibtions and restraints of organized society, and from improper trainng in our educational institutions.

One who has so shaped his life as to be healthy, successful and happy has not done so because of any innate advantage acquired before birth, but solely because of the habit-systems he has learned to develop since birth. If sickness, failure and unhappiness have developed, these have come as the result of errors in living, and bad habits, not fate, are to be blamed.

If sickness is present, it is not because the doctor has not been consulted, but because the ailing one has lived the way, which, in his case, produced disease. It a physician is then consulted, great care should be used in choosing one who will teach the patient how to change his "sick" habits to healthy ones.

In a like manner, the one who wishes to develop a charming personality can learn how from the competent psychologist or psychoanalyst. It is all a question of cultivating good social habits. He must honestly examine himself to find out what disagreeable traits of personality he has been acquiring, and substitute good traits for the bad ones. If he has been inconsiderate of others. He must avoid untruthfulness, and develop sincerity. Bodily cleanliness is as important for a successful social life as it is for physical health. He must learn to be fair in his games, whether playing blind man's buff or poker.

We should all watch habits as they grow in ourselves, and realize that there need be no mystery about acquiring character or likable personality, as bad habits can be easily changed to good ones as soon as we sincerely wish to do so. A start must be made as soon as we understand this fact if we are to hope for success after years of living with haphazard habits.

Question: I. T. writes: "I am 60 years of age, and have had eczema for twelve years. Will you kindly name the foods I should use Is there a sanitarium that you would advise for a few weeks or longer, if satisfactory?"

Answer: Take a fast for a few days and follow the menus I give you each week in this column. Any ordinary case of eczema can be cured by the use of a correctly balanced diet. No sanitarium treatment is necessary if you will follow the proper regime at home.

Question: K. L. M. writes: "I have trouble sleeping at night. Will you please tell me the cause of this? Also, I have a dizzy feeling in my head upon arising."

Answer: Insomnia is generally produced by over-eating at the evening meal, or using foods which make stomach gas. This would also cause biliousness, with the resultant dizzy spells which you experience each morning.

Question: Mary J. writes: "Does a rise in temperature of from one-fifth to three-fifths of a degree signify any bodily disease? This rise comes sometimes in the morning, but generally in the afternoon."

Answer: Such a slight rise in temperature does not indicate any specific disease. Most people are below normal in temperature during the morning and come up to normal in the afternoon. Normal temperature undoubtedly varies with different people.

Question: Mrs. O. B. W asks: "Is salad oil all right for salads? I cannot use olive oil, as at one time I took it as medicine."

Answer: There are many excellent salad oils on the market which are made from cotton seed, linseed or peanuts. They are equally as beneficial to you as the olive oil.

Sir Harry Lauder: I find a great stream of friendliness among English-speaking peoples. Surely we as white men with red blood in our veins cradled by Christian mothers ought to know what it is worth to be friendly. I'd rather contribute to the building of friendships than battleships.

Planetary Influences on this Day for All

Do nothing of importance.

For Those Whose Birthday Is Today

If you were born on April 17, you may have many handicaps confront you in life, and associates who may harm you. Therefore, it is necessary that you surround yourself with the proper companions in order to cope with this situation. An avocation is necessary as well as a vocation for your happiness in life. Your best efforts would be expended in any work dealing with literature, the military, metallurgy, mining engineering, architecture, art or the stage. The most favorable periods for attempting any thing reasonable in nature where beneficial results are required are: the spring of 1928, the winter of 1929, the summer of 1932 and the spring of 1933.

William Kelly, Born April 17, 1854

Billy: "Pa, how far can a dog run in the forest?"

Father: "What a foolish question! As far as he wants, of course."

Billy: "No, he can't. He can only run as far as the middle, after that he's running out of the forest."

Girl Friend: "Are you troubled with pyorrhea?"

Doctor's Stenog: "Only when I have to spell it."

Motorist—I clearly had the right of way when this man ran into me and yet you say I was to blame.

Local Constable—You certainly were.

Motorist—Why?

L. C.—Because his brother is mayor, his father is chief of police, and I am engaged to his sister.—People's Journal (Dundee).

The leading draper in a certain small town advertised for a lad. One applicant for the situation had been employed in a fishmonger's shop, but he seemed quite smart.

"Your handwriting's good enough," said the draper. "Can you do mental arithmetic?"

"Yes, sir,' replied the lad.

"Well—answer me this—what would thirty-four pounds of salmon at fourpence a pound be?"

"Bad, sir!" was the prompt reply.

How Much Do You Know?

How is your general knowledge? The Bulletin is running ten questions a day. How many can you answer? Test yourself and your friends on the basis:—Each question is worth ten marks. If you can answer all the ten questions, you rate 100 per cent in the quiz. If you can answer eight you rate 80 per cent. If you can answer four, you rate 40 per cent. How much do you know?

1. In music what do the following terms mean: (a) pianissimo; (b) dolce; (c) allegro?
2. What doctor established a famous medical mission in Labrador?
3. In what connection did H.M.S. Royal Oak receive publicity a while ago?

REPLIES TO READERS

The Insane and the Abnormal

Will you kindly advise me of the differences between sane and insane (not from a legal viewpoint) and normal and abnormal people? D. M.

Reply

Of the several inquiries that raise the same important question this is the most direct. You can't omit the legal side, because "insanity" is so largely a legal term.

Is citizen A capable of managing his affairs, or should the law appoint a guardian? Was citizen B in full possession of his mind when he made the will, now contested? Shall citizen C be committed to an asylum, as his family requests? And, chiefly was citizen D in a responsible condition when he committed the crime for which he is now on trial? All of these issues must be settled, and they all involve the question: "Are A, B, C, D sane or insane?" But that is a misleading approach. Who is mentally abnormal and from what kind of mental disorder is he suffering is a question for mind-doctors to decide, and how far such abnormality incapacitates is one of the difficult issues.

No law is any wiser than the men who make it and who administer it. Disorders of mind are made by nature; men are liable to them as to disorders of body, according to the weak points in their makeup. Dr. Myerson calls the term "insanity" an "idol of the market place," and what Bacon meant by that term 400 years ago still applies: that the popular mind confuses a name with a condition.

It goes back to the days that gave us the word "lunatic", the theory being that people who behaved so strangely were moon-struck, as still earlier they were believed to be possessed of a devil. In all this there is the notion that insanity refers to just one condition, and you either have it or you don't. This idea of insanity delayed the proper understanding of mental disorders. We should all be better off, doctors and lawyers and laymen, if we stopped speaking about insanity and spoke of mental disorders, for then we should have constantly in mind that they are of various kinds, quite distinct in their symptoms and in their interference with safe and sane behavior.

"A man may have a mental disorder and not be insane in the sense that he is competent to carry on his affairs and to maintain his place in society, and vice versa, people who are not able to carry on their affairs and maintain their place in society may not have mental disease. People expect the mentally sick to be tearing their clothing, to be screeching and screaming, attempting the lives of others or their own, or else they are surprised when a patient declared to be committable to an institution for mental disease can talk coherently, is polite and well-mannered—Myerson.

"Mental abnormality" is a still broader term and a most useful one. Certainly all the people suffering from mental disorders, whether they are under treatment or not; whether they recognize it or not, are abnormal. There are more varieties of abnormality than of well-recognized forms of mental disorder. The world is full of queer people, and if we had any thought of confining them, we should need as many asylums as apartment houses; and the world would be far less interesting without them.

For many persons have abnormal tendencies of mind which, if they develop, constitute some of the varieties of mental disorder. All roads lead to Rome, but how many are the ways of leaving it! And just as different are the departures from normality.

Of the several varieties of mental disorder some are serious departures and others less so, shading into the borderland. Some disqualify far more than others and differently. Some go through their cycles, others proceed to recovery, still others grow worse and worse. It will never be easy to decide which of the abnormal persons, which of the sufferers from mental disorder, shall be held to be entitled to their liberty and direction of affairs, which shall be held legally responsible for their actions.

If by "insanity" we can all agree, doctors and lawyers and laymen alike, to mean "a condition of mental abnormality or of mental disorder requiring legal intervention," then we have defined insanity for legal purposes, just as we have decided what is citizenship for voting purposes. But to say that the test of this is a knowledge of a distinction between right and wrong, or a realization of the consequence of our actions, is a totally different matter.

There are doubtless many abnormal people, and some of them suffering from mental disorder, who commit crimes and should be held responsible for them, and others who should not; there are still more for whom it would be better to regulate their affairs legally if need be—than to let them retain the complete freedom which they now possess. Much of this is a matter of judgment.

Most abnormal persons and most victims of mental disorder have no relation to the courts. It is wrong to think of them as insane, and wrong to regard what is technically "insanity as the chief symptoms of their malady, or think of "insanity" as though it were one kind of condition. Once this lay of the land is understood we can recognize the several provinces of mental disorders and the still wider territory of abnormality that surrounds them.

THEATRES

AT PANTAGES

"Tommy," a riotously funny comedy, is the vehicle in which the Gordinier Players are appearing at Pantages theatre all this week. The Monday evening audience, capacity in size, found the play to its entire satisfaction and left the theatre praising it mightily.

Tommy Mills, after whom the play is named, is a young person who has his trials and tribulations ere his frail love ship is safely moored alongside its wharf. Tommy is not altogether as conventional as many another such young person and like many other good intentioned persons he is frequently badly misunderstood. However, Tommy has a few friends who stick by him and all misunderstandings are smoothed out and he is left in undisputed possession of the girl of his choice.

The theme of the play and the character of Tommy are far removed from the ordinary and this being the case, there is more than ordinary interest in both.

Mento A. Everitt as Marie Thurber was a picture that Greuze might well have been proud of painting. Petite and captivating, it is small wonder that Tommy was bent on marrying her. Ward Stone as Bernard cut a fine figure as a nonchalant rival of Tommy's and carried off his part well-nigh to perfection. Shirley Duval as Mrs. Wilson acquitted herself creditably. Barbara Gordon as Mrs. Thurber had a splendid part of which she made the most. Carl Martin as the blustering father of Marie, with a decided proclivity for cross-word puzzles, won himself a host of friends. Roscoe Patch as David Tuttle, politically inclined, had a part that suited him right down to the ground. His was an outstanding performance. Andrew Leigh as Tommy Mills had a large portion of the burden to bear, which indeed and forsooth rested even lightly on his capable shoulders. It was a fine performance on his part. Otis Eaton as Judge Wilson was all that could be desired.

The scenery, painted by Walter Williams, added much to the charm of the evening.

Graydon Tipp and his orchestra again provided a feast of entr'acte music.

AT THE CAPITOL

English made pictures have scored one of their best hits in "The Battles of Coronel and Falkland Islands", a historic drama of two great sea battles fought in 1914 shortly after the beginning of the war. This picture opened at the Capitol theatre Monday for a three-day showing.

The first battle at Coronel was between the German and British ships in which the Britishers were hopelessly outclassed and outnumbered. The two British ships went down and the navy immediately laid plans to bring about the protection of Falkland Islands.

It was at this place that the Britishers wiped out the stigma of defeat by sinking the entire German outfit which had sent the British ships to the bottom of the sea at Coronel.

McGreevy and Jeffries headline the vaudeville attractions and Monday's crowds seemed to like them. David Morgan, popular tenor, also scored a big hit. A good comedy and News of the World, in addition to a popular program by the Capitolians, complete the program.

AT THE RIALTO

Presenting another of their popular double-header programs, the Rialto theatre management this week are featuring two film specialties, "Woman Wise", starring William Russell who plays opposite June Collyer, and "Dead Man's Curve", with Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., playing the leading role.

Both pictures offer some real entertainment. "Woman Wise" tells the story of a happy-go-lucky ne'er-do-well who rides into Persia and out again, loving, laughing and losing like a gentleman. It is a sparkling comedy and well-worth seeing.

"Dead Man's Curve" tells an interesting story. And Sally Blane plays the leading feminine role, too.

A special score by a special six-piece orchestra under the direction of Al Preston offers a musical treat for the theatre-goers

AT THE EMPRESS

Starring Lillian Gish, a film version of Channing Pollock's play of wartime, "The Enemy," is presently being shown at the Empress theatre.

In its original stage form "The Enemy" scored a complete and unqualified triumph and was the reason for much comment about it. The transcription for moviedom has been changed little. The story has been followed very faithfully, there being only one concession at the end to make for a happier and more felicitous climax.

The story deals in the main with a Viennese family and the circumstances into which the various members are thrown as a result of the world war. It pictures an English student in Vienna, firm friends with a fellow student, a Viennese. Then comes the war, ruptures their friendship and throws their lives into the melting pot. How their destiny is worked out forms a thrilling, compelling story that cannot fail to make a deep impression upon all who see it. It is undoubtedly one of the finest pictures seen here in several years.

Ralph Forbes is a splendid leading man, while the balance of the large cast give a flawless demonstration of acting. The scenes dealing with the war and in and around Vienna are taken on a large scale and create a profound impression.

A comedy creation and a brace of other short pictures round out the program.

Tom Gardner and his orchestra supplied a first-class score to accompany the various pictures.

AT THE PRINCESS

There is nothing of the traditional war film in "Roses of Picardy", which opened at the Princess Monday. It is based on the two novels, "The Spanish Farm" and "Sixty-Four, Ninety-Four," by R. H. Mottram, and has been produced with fidelity by Maurice Elvey. It is a psychological study of the effects of the war on a woman and two men.

AT THE MONARCH

John Gilbert, in that magnificent screen triumph, "The Big Parade," came to the Monarch theatre last night and proved that all his popularity is justly deserved. The picture is a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production, directed by King Vidor.

AT THE DREAMLAND

Charlie Murray with Fred Kelsey, who play the parts of the two dumb detectives in "The Gorilla," the chilling and spooky mystery-comedy melodrama now playing at the Dreamland theatre, give ample proof of what detectives should not do. This new screen team was developed by Edward Small, the creator of "The Cohens and the Kellys" and "McFadden's Flats."

COMING TO EMPIRE

Advices from Vancouver and Victoria have it that Seymour Hicks, his charming wife, Ellaline Terriss, and his London company have now completed their All Canadian tour with the clean record of having scored a sensational success in all cities visited. Following his engagement in the coast cities Mr. Hicks returns to the Empire theatre here for a brief farewell visit of three days only, commencing Thursday, April 19.

BELLEVILLE-SUR-SAONE, France, April 17.—Viscount Tremston, only son and heir of the Earl of Athlone, governor-general of South Africa and a nephew of Queen Mary, died here in a hospital following serious injuries he received in a motor accident April. He was 21 years old.

CASH OFFERED ON CITY LAND

Applications for city property which have been received include the offer of $5,000 cash for a lot on 103rd street, on which the purchaser has expressed his intention of putting up a $25,000 warehouse if the deal is approved by council.

Another offer of $9,000 cash for other city property is also being made, and several requests for city prices on lots held in various parts of the city have been received.

"Indications are that city property will move very rapidly from now on," said Commissioner Mitchell this morning in announcing that several deals would be before council for approval in the next few weeks.

Students Will Try Canoe Trip To North Land

CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., April 17.—Paddling 3,205 miles over lakes and streams in uncharted forests of northwest Canada, four University of Iowa students, John Fuller, 21 years old, of Keokuk; Max J. Kane, 22, of Iowa City; Gordon C. Armstrong, 20, of Britt, and Peter C. Boddium, 24, of Crystal Lake, will attempt to reach the Arctic Circle this summer.

They will leave Winnipeg on June 5, and the journey will isolate them more than three months from civilization. Their goal is a little inlet at the north end of Hudson Bay, a few miles beyond the Arctic Circle.

Famous Jeweler, Henry Birks, Is Dead in Montreal

MONTREAL, April 16—Henry Birks, veteran founder and president of the firm bearing the name of himself and sons, died Monday night at the Montreal General hospital at the age of 88 years.

Mr. Birks recently returned from Florida and entered the hospital. He showed some improvement for a few weeks, but had a relapse Monday and members of his family were summoned. He died in their presence.

Born in Montreal on November 30, 1840, Henry Birks was the son of John Birks, a member of a well known family of cutlers who had come from Yorkshire to Canada in 1832. After being educated at the Montreal high school, the youth entered the jewelry business in which he was to make a name for himself. He remained with the same firm for 20 years and then branched out for himself.

French Flier Wants Trans-Ocean Plane

PARIS, April 17—Le Matin today quoted Dieudonne Costes, French around-the-world flier, as saying he is more interested in obtaining a good plane for a flight from Paris to New York than in receiving the honors being heaped upon him and his companion, Joseph Lebrix.

"I am deeply touched and highly appreciative of these receptions, distinctions and honors," Costes said, "but it is more than I want. All I ask is a good bus so that I can try the Paris to New York trip."

Commission Named to Probe Church Dispute

REGINA, April 17—Premier J. G. Gardiner announced Monday the appointment of the chief justice of the Court of Appeal, Sir Frederick Haultain, and Mr. Justice Turgeon, of the Court of Appeal, as commissioners to investigate the disputes with regard to property and other matters which have arisen as a result of the consummation of church union.

It was further stated in the article that following the arrival in Mons of the Canadian headquarters officers warning had been given to them that their lives were in danger from their own troops.

Admits Authorship

The article is admitted to have been written by Mr. Preston.

Mr. Justice Rose of the supreme court of Ontario is trying the case before a jury. Some of the most prominent counsel of the country have been retained, among them W. N. Tilley, K.C., and R. H. Parmenter, K.C., of Toronto, for the plaintiff. These lawyers are assisted by D. H. Chisholm, K.C., of Port Hope, and Roy Wilmot, of Cobourg. For the defendants are Frank Regan of Toronto, W. A. F. Campbell, of Port Hope, and T. H. Hall, of Cobourg. It was announced Monday by Mr. Regan that Mr. Preston would conduct his own defence.

An interesting feature of the proceedings, which involve the conduct of military operations by Canada's war commander, is the fact that only one of the counsel, Mr. Wilmot, has had military experience, while only one of the jurors, so far as is known, is an ex-service man.

Many Witnesses

It was announced previously that the defendants would have between 50 and 75 witnesses, drawn from all over the country, but Monday a member of defence counsel declared that this number had been whittled down and that, additional to those who had already testified, there might be a dozen more. This would shorten the sessions of the case considerably. Sir Arthur Currie, it is understood, intends to call about 40 witnesses.

Among Monday's outstanding developments was a complaint from Mr. Regan to the efefct that the department of national defence in Ottawa had accorded to the opposing counsel, Mr. Tilley, facilities for examining records there which had been denied to himself. This had resulted, Mr. Regan said, in his subpoenaeing the minister of national defence. Counsel informed his lordship that when he had written to the department respecting certain documents he had received a reply from G. J. Desbarats, deputy minister of national defence, declaring that these documents could be made available if Mr. Regan could reach an agreement with Mr. Tilley with regard to their production. Defence counsel objected to any decision of this nature resting with Mr. Tilley.

It was made clear, however, that the minister of national defence, Col. Hon. J. L. Ralston, had sent three departmental officers, Col. R. Orde, deputy judge advocate general, Col. L. Armstrong, director of records, and Col. Duguid, director of the historical section, to Cobourg with a large number of documents. These documents would be made available to defence counsel, and the officers were prepared to assist Mr. Regan in identification of such as he might desire. They would not, however, allow them to go out of their possession, such being governmental instructions.

No Retraction

His lordship ruled that this should be perfectly satisfactory to Mr. Regan. He declined to issue an order that would be contrary to the orders which those officers had received from the minister.

Mr. Tilley addressed the jury and outlined the nature and purpose of the action. He explained the connection between the article complained of and the three principals in the case. The article had been written, admittedly, by Mr. Preston and had appeared in the Port Hope Guide, of which Mr. Wilson was publisher. Since its publication there had been no retraction. On the contrary, the defendans in their statement of defence had declared that what had been written was substantially a true statement with regard to the facts of the case. Such being the attitude of the defendants, the onus of proving that the article was true rested upon them. The defendants also asserted that the opinions expressed in the artcile were "fair comment." Counsel declared that it could not be overlooked that the article specifically mentioned Sir Arthur Currie as the officer who had ordered the attack on Mons.

Mr. Regan moved for non-suit on the ground that the article was not libellous and no damage had been done. His lordship did not accede. Mr. Regan then called the first of his witnesses.

Saw Burials

Earl Fox, Port Hope, formerly a 21st battalion signaller, gave his military record and said he had rejoined his unit on November 9 from hospital. On the morning of November 10 his battalion advanced 10 miles and a man named Sullivan was killed. On November 11 about 7:30 a.m. he received the armistice message and later went into Mons without permission. He saw six or seven dead Canadians in the streets. He could not say when they had been killed, but thought it could not have been the night before, because the Canadians were not in Mons on November 10. It must have been early November 11, he thought. The bodies were scattered along the streets about a block apart, three being on the outskirts of the city. Fox declared there was firing on Armistice Day after 11 a.m. Both Germans and Canadians were "trying to get the last word in."

Charles Leslie, former overseas man, had seen the burial of seven or eight Canadians in Mons November 13. He with his company entered Mons about 5 a.m. November 11. Going up he saw German and Canadian dead. There was firing on the way up, with the Germans doing most of it. Before 11 a.m. he saw a German plane fly over the town and heard the explosion of bombs dropping. From the time his unit started forward that morning no one was killed or wounded that he knew of.

At this point the hearing was adjourned.

When the $50,000 libel suit brought by Sir Arthur Currie against W. T. R. Preston, publisher of the Port Hope Guide, was resumed before Mr. Justice Rose today, Frank Regan, counsel for the defence, called William Woodlock, of Port Hope, formerly a member of "C" company, 42nd battalion. Witness testified that on November 10, 1918, he proceeded with his unit toward Jamappes, near Mons, which was reached about ten o'clock at night

Heard of Deaths

Later he went to headquarters of "A" company of the unit and it was there that he heard that the battalion had suffered casualties. At this point, W. N. Tilley, K. C., for Sir Arthur Currie; objected that such evidence was second hand and His Lordship ruled that hearsay evidence was not admissable. Mr. Regan then declared that he would have to make the opposition of the defence clear. One of the statements in the article complained of had spoken of "common talk among the soldiers" and counsel felt that such evidence tended to show what the sentiments of the soldiers were. These men had returned to Canada and had spoken freely, and upon what they had said the article was based.

Considerable discussion between counsel and His Lordship ensued. Mr. Justice Rose agreed that the point at issue was one whether there were casualties at Mons, and the defence were required to prove it, but they could not prove it by hearsay.

Mr. Regan continued examination with the question:

"What did you learn about the losses of "A" company on the 10th"

The judge disallowed the question, but Mr. Regan asked how witness learned of such losses. The reply was that the witness came to know of them in the course of conversation.

Knew of Armistice

Another question was asked as to when witness learned of the armistice. Some discussion ensued and counsel asserted that the position of the defence was that plaintiff knew for a week before the armistice that there was going to be one. The necessity of producing an exhibit caused Mr. Woodlock to stand down and his place in the box was taken by Colonel Archer Duguid, director of the historical section Ottaw,a.

Have you an extract from a report of the First Army dated November, 1918, and headed: "The advance from Escant to Mons?"

Witness: "This was not a document produced by the Canadian corps in France."

Counsel: "Did you give General Currie a copy"

Witness: "Yes."

Counsel: "Have you a copy with you?"

Witness: "No because it was not a document of the Canadian corps in France."

Mr. Regan recalled Mr. Woodlock and read to him the following extract from the report:

"It is generally known throughout the army that an armistice might be signed within the next day or two."

FAIR GREATEST EVER HELD BY CITY YOUTHS

The greatest Boys' and Girls' Fair in the history of Edmonton has concluded. In every respect it far surpassed any previous Fair, and from all angles was a huge success. There were many more entries, more and better special prizes, finer exhibits, better music and record attendances. On Saturday night the Y.M.C.A. was crowded to capacity, while the Y.W.C.A. also drew a crowd that paced the Gymnasium to overflowing.

Robert Hall was the winner of the Aggregate Cup with 138 points to his credit. He had over 100 entries in the Fair and won many special prizes as well as a number of ribbons.

Miss Emily Mayhew won the cup for the highest aggregate for girls. She showed a wonderful talent in art, practically every one of her entries carried off a first prize ribbon, beside the shields in "Art and Collections."

70 Ponies Entered

The pony show, which was held in front of the Arena Saturday afternoon immediately after the Spring show, proved to be a great success, since it was well attended and there were over 70 entries. The judges, Mr. Lambert and Alex Galbraith, awarded Stan Cook, Edmonton, the shield for the best rider.

The public also appeared to be greatly interested in the cat show, at which there were approximately 50 entries. T. Hutchins carried off the prize with his silver Persian.

Art Crockett won the shield in the junior swimming contest held in the Y.M.C.A. natatorium Saturday night, while Munro Coburn led the field in the senior class. Gordon Wilson was second in the junior class, and Peter Rule and Ab. Foster tied for second position in the seniors.

Boy Best Hat Trimmer

Considerable difficulty was experienced by the judges in the typing class and after some deliberation they awarded the prize in the girls' class to Grace Macdonald and Tom Inkster in the boys'.

The hat trimming contest, for boys only, caused a lot of amusement, and amidst hoots of laughter Norman Cameron was adjudged the winner.

Later in the evening the prizes, cups and shields were presented by Mrs. J. C. Bowen and Mr. T. H. Campbell.

Tells Red Deer Folk About North Country

Exclusive to Bulletin

RED DEER, April 17.—Red Deer folk heard an interesting lecture on the Peace River country given by Rev. C. C. McLaurin, of Calgary, in the Baptist Church, at 8 p.m. on Monday night, with lantern slide illustrations.

Giving his talk the name of Jerome's great book, "Three Men in a Boat," Mr. McLaurin entertained a packed house with experiences gathered when he and two companions took a five hundred mile trip through the upper parts of B.C. and Alberta, on the Peace and Smoky Rivers. He had the usual message of great prospects for the future of this great unopened area.

TRADE BOARD AT RED DEER TO USE RADIO

Exclusive to Bulletin

RED DEER, April 17.—At the regular monthly meeting of the Red Deer board of trade held here in the city hall Monday night with President Fred Turnbull in the chair, secretary Geo. Hunter read a reply to a letter sent to the Alberta Pacific Grain Co. regarding broadcasting over the local station CKLC. The company replied, giving very reasonable rates, and it was moved by W. J. Botterill that the station's operator be given three talks on Red Deer and district stating the prospects for new farmers, etc., and in general advertising the district.

A publicity committee to arrange this proposed series of talks and to further in other ways the advertising of Red Deer was named, the members of it being W. J. Botterill, chairman, C. A. McAllister and Fred Turnbull.

The Empire Week, to be held April 23 to 28, was reported on by H. J. Snell, who had interviewed most of the local business men, who are getting behind the movement in fine style. Posters and banners have been received and are to be put on display towards the end of the week. The clean-up day is set locally for May 15. A committee of R. J. Welliver, J. T. Holmes and W. Gifford are to appoint captains to handle various districts of town and push the work through.

H. Wilson reported briefly on the work of the membership committee.

G. W. Smith, M.P.P., then addressedthe board on the government's proposed work on highways this summer and gave statistics on the expenditure on road work to be done around Red Deer.

The Bishop of Calgary, Rt. Rev. L. R. Bishop of Calgary, Rt. Rev. L. R. Sherman, D.D., was at Red Deer's English church on Monday evening to conduct a confirmation service. Fourteen persons went through this ceremony, one of them being from Blackfalds, and service was attended largely. Rev. J. S. Orton, pastor at Innisfail, was present and afterwards drove his Lordship back to Calgary.

E. Ainsworth Heads Red Deer Rotarians

Exclusive to Bulletin

RED DEER, April 17.—The Red Deer Rotary club held its weekly luncheon in the Auditorium hotel here on Monday noon and elected a new staff of officials, these being: President Elmer Ainsworth, treasurer George Muir, executive Walker Gifford, Morris Beatty and Edgar Johns. These take office in July when the Rotary year starts.

BIG FIRE AT 'HAT

MEDICINE HAT, Alta., April 17.—Fire, starting on the second floor, gutted St. Louis separate school here Monday and caused damage amounting to $25,000. No one was in the building at the time of the outbreak.

Two minor accidents were reported to city police central headquarters Monday. No one was injured.

PALE AND WEAK AND RUN-DOWN

Tanlac Transformed Her Into The Picture of Health

What a grand tonis body-builder Tanlac is! It is simply marvellous to watch Tanlac transform pale, thin, listless, sickly people into men and women glowing with health and vigour. The wonderful roots, barks and herbs contained in Tanlac are just what the human body needs when the system is all run-down. Miss Philomena Lacombe, 1876 Orleans Street, Montreal, knows this to her lasting satisfaction. "Last spring, I was all rundown," she writes. "I had no appetite; indigestion tortured me; and my nerves would not let me sleep at night. When I began taking Tanlac, I weighed only 113 pounds. Now I weigh 125 pounds. And the best part of all is, that the indigestion and nervousness are gone and I am my normal, active, healthy self again. Of course I endorse and recommend Tanlac."

Try Tanlac yourself. Get a bottle at your druggist's today and let this famous up-building tonic and blood purifier help you to get back all your old-time health and vigour. Tanlac costs less than 2c a dose—your money refunded if you are not perfectly satisfied.

PROBE OF BIG FIRE AT 'PEG IS ADJOURNED

WINNIPEG, April 17.—Two investigations into the Casa Loma apartment block fire which took a toll of five lives here Saturday were under way Monday, but after preliminary proceedings they were adjourned pending further inquiry.

In the morning Provincial Fire Commissioner E. McGrath commenced an investigation in camera, while in the evening a coroner's jury was empanelled, viewed the bodies of the victims and adjourned until further reports, being prepared for Coroner H. M. Cameron, on the disaster are completed. No witnesses were called at the inquest.

The provincial fire commissioner's inquiry was adjourned this afternoon after an invitation had been sent to the city council to co-operate with Mr. McGrath. Instead of conducting its own investigation it is probable that the city will appoint Alderman Thomas Boyd, chairman of the civic safety commission, to act as representative at the provincial probe.

There was no change in the condition of the seven seriously injured in hospital Monday night. Mrs. Gregg Heake, who with her husband leaped from a fifth storey window to a light well roof, still was in a precarious condition. Her husband, Gregg Heake, 24 years old, who came from London, Ont., 12 years ago, was fatally injured and died en route to hospital.

AUTHOR DIVORCED

RENO, Nev., April 17.—Sinclair Lewis, uathor of "Main Street" and other well-known books, was divorced in district court here Monday by Grace Hegger Lewis. She charged desertion.

SAYS B.C.E.R. NOT PURCHASED

VANCOUVER, B.C., April 17.—Denial of the report that the British Columbia Electric company had been purchased by British interests headed by Viscount Rothermere was made Monday by George Kidd, president of the company, on instructions from J. Davidson, deputy chairman, in London.

In a cable from London Monday Mr. Davidson states: "Cable from Victorie dated April 13 appears in press stating 'Premier Maclean has received cable message stating that the British Columbia Electric railway company has been purchased by British interests headed by Viscount Rothermere. The transaction is said to involve approximately $30,000,000.' Please deny this. The company has not been purchased by anyone."

CALGARY MAN KILLED

CALGARY, April 17—Falling from the top of a box car Monday afternoon Adam Allan, 38, employee of the Dominion government elevator in East Calgary, was killed when his head struck a rail. He was unmarried.

Seattle Badly Hit by Terrific Gale

SEATTLE, Wash., April 17—Swirling up from the southwest, a 44 mile an hour wind, rain-laden, descended upon Seattle for a short period Monday night, wrecking two aeroplanes, uprooting trees and disrupting telegraph and electric light systems.

The aeroplanes, standing on a field, were lifted into the air an observing aviator said, and were carried for 100 feet until they became entangled and crashed to the ground in wreckage.

Revenues from the sale of 1927 auto tags in Ohio totalled $10,229.99.

Liberal Women From All Parts of Canada Meet for Convention

Many Important Resolutions to Be Considered at Gathering

Mrs. Charles Stewart, wife of the minister of the interior, will represent the Edmonton Women's Liberal club at the national convention of Liberal women which opened a two-day session in Ottawa Tuesday. A telegram conveying the greetings of the Edmonton Liberal Women's club to the convention was sent to Mrs. Stewart Monday evening by Mrs. J. B. Stewart, president.

Mrs. K. A. Blatchford, who left Saturday evening for the capital, will arrive in time for the final sessions of the convention, but will not attend as a delegate.

Many Delegates

More than five hundred delegates arrived in Ottawa over the week-end, prominent among them being Mary Ellen Smith, M.L.A., of Vancouver, and Mrs. Mary MacCallum Sutherland of Sherbrook, Sask., who is accompanied by twelve members from her province.

Welcomes Delegates

Mrs. C. H. Thorburn, in a characteristically enthusiastic and vigorous manner, welcomed the delegates in the opening speech of the assembly.

Madame P. F. Casgrain, wife of the Liberal whip in the house of commons, said in part:

"Here, today, Canadian women of the Liberal persuasion are setting forth a unique example to other nations. Few are the countries, if there be any, where a national congress of women students of politics has yet been held.

"We have the right to play our part in national activities and we firmly intend to use it. There is not more incompatability between our political rights and our sex than there is between our sex and our paying taxes or conforming to the laws of the country."

Many important resolutions will come before the convention, including one asking the federal government to use its influence "to obtain as soon as possible for the women of Quebec their provincial rights."

Another asks the government to provide for the appointment of women to the senate. This resolution will be offered by a western delegate. A motion will be introduced urging the women of Ontario and other provinces where old age pensions acts are not yet in operation to agitate for the adoption of such legislation; the federal department of agriculture will be asked to study and devise methods of grading and standardizing foods, while the federal department of health is urged to take action to reduce the rate of maternal and infant mortality.

Wetaskiwin Girls Win Trip to Toronto by "Selling Alberta"

Competing with nine other teams in the northern part of the province during a two-day "Selling Alberta" demonstration, Wetaskiwin Women's Institute Girls' club were declared winners at the end of the demonstration and will go to the Toronto Exhibition in August to compete with clubs from all over the Dominion.

Members of the winning team are: Miss Doris Hanna, leader; Miss Laurette Vickers, Miss Norma Nelson and Mrs. Albert Roddell, supervisor.

Warner team won second place for the province, for the demonstration of wool. Daysland won second honors for Northern Alberta.

The winning team chose dairing as their subject, giving a demonstration of butter-making and the taking of the Babcock test for butter-fat. Miss Doris Hanna cleverly "sold" the province of Alberta during the demonstration with her talk on the possibilities of the province.

Mrs. McGregor Smith, convener of W.I. Girls' clubs for the province, was in charge of demonstration arrangements.

Mothers of Scouts to Give Silver Tea Thursday Afternoon

Ways and means of getting all troops into uniform occupied the attention of the Mothers' Committee of the 10th Troop Boy Scouts and Wolf Cubs at a special meeting of that organization held recently. The committee would like to see this accomplished before the pageant early in May. Final arrangements were made for a silver tea on Thursday afternoon, April 19, at the home of Mrs. G. Goodall, 11524 93rd street. A good attendance is requested.

BEAUTY QUESTIONS ANSWERED

Dressing for Slenderness

Dear Miss Leeds—I am 16 years old, 5 feet 4 inches tall. What should I weigh? I have large hips. How can I dress to make them look slimmer? My ankles and legs are rather large also. What kind of slippers would be becoming? DOROTHY JUNE.

Answer: The average weight for girls of your age and height is 120 pounds. If the upper part of your figure is slender you may choose an evening frock with a basque bodice and a full skirt that will hide the hips. Drapery hung in front of the hips is also becoming to a wide figure. You might have a plain skirt with a piece of drapery placed just in front of each hip and hanging below the hem line. Or you may have the drapery just on one side. If your legs are not slim and gracefully formed, wear shoes and hosiery of inconspicuous color and design. Black or brown satin and bronze kid make attractive opera pumps. Slippers with a narrow strap about the ankle and another straight down the front of the instep would also be suitable for you.

How to Gain a Few Pounds

Dear Miss Leeds—I would like to gain a few pounds. I am 24 years old, 5 feet 3 inches tall, and weigh only 100 pounds. My measurements are: neck, 12 1-2; bust 30 1-2; waist, 25; calf, 12 1-2; ankle, 8. I would like to get my ankles a little slimmer. I eat and sleep well and am rarely sick, but I can't put on flesh. R. R.

Answer: You should try to gain at least 10 pounds. Perhaps your failure to gain weight is due to waste of energy through nervousness. Your diet may be lacking in fats, such as butter, cream and oil, or in starches or sugars. Try drinking a quart of milk daily. You may flavor it with cocoa, if you wish, or with vanilla, sugar and cinnamon. Please send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my leaflet on "How to Gain Weight," which gives diet suggestions for your type.

Developing the Calves

Dear Miss Leeds—(1) Please recommen dan exercise for developing the leg muscles below the knee. (2) I am 17 years old, 5 feet 2 inches tall, and weight 120 pounds. Is that correct? (3) I have a round, full face and have been wearing a low side part with the ends of my hair turned up on my cheeks. Can you suggest a new coiffure for me?? JUST KITTEN.

Answer: (1) Hiking and swimming are fine exercises for developing well-formed legs. Knee bending exercises are also good. Stand with heels together, hands on hips. Slowly bend the knees outward until you are sitting on your heels. Keep back straight. Rise slowly and repeat. (2) You are a few pounds over the average weight for your age and height, but I do not advise reducing, as the excess in weight is probably due to your naturally heavy build. (3) I think a high side part would be more becoming. See tomorrow's beauty talk for several coiffure suggestions for your type.

What's What

By HELEN DECIE

A bridge luncheon served on the card tables before the beginning of the game may be quite simple, including chicken pates or croquettes with green peas, fruit salad, ice cream and coffee. A luncheon arranged in the dining room is more elaborate. Embroidered doilies may be used, or a lace-trimmed cloth with matching napkins. Asbestos pads slipped into dainty linen covers may be placed underneath hot dishes to protect the polished table surface. The table is adorned with seasonable flowers.

At this season, the following is an attractive table luncheon menu: Clam cocktail, tomato bisque, radishes in watercress, salted almonds, shad roe or caviar on toast, finger rolls, lamb chops, new peas, Saratoga chips, salad macedoine, Neufchatel cheese, individual strawberry shortcakes, ice cream and coffee.

It is customary for the guests at a bridge luncheon to wear their hats.

Mme. Jeanne Dusseau Charms Audience With Artistic Song Recital

Singer of French-Canadian and Indian Melodies Scores Triumph

Madame Jeanne Dusseau, noted Toronto singer, scored a complete triumph when she appeared in a recital of Canadian Folk songs at Convocation hall, University of Alberta, on Monday evening under the auspices of the Federation of Canadian Clubs.

Born in Scotland

Though of Scottish birth, Madame Dusseau has resided in Canada for the greater portion of the time, and is the wife of a French-Canadian. She has successfully appeared with the Chicago Grand Opera company in association with such famous songbirds as Amelita Galli-Curci and Mary Garden and was selected to sing the role of Ninetta in the world premiere of Serge Prokokieff's opera, "The Love of Three Oranges."

Of recent years Madame Dusseau has devoted most of her time to spreading the gospel of Canadian folk songs, but has also given much time to folk songs of other nations.

Sings With Charm

She has a voice of genuine beauty and no little power. She has had the benefit of excellent instruction and sings easily. Her fluent style commends itself heartily to both musically cultivated and lay ear.

Bringing her vast experience, extensive training and naturally appealing voice to the interpretation of folk songs, she imbued them with new beauty and charm. No matter what nation she favored, she was equally accomplished.

The songs sung were selected by Marius Barbeau of the National Museum of Canada and everywhere recognized as a leader in Canadian folk song research, and Dr. Ernest MacMillan, director of the Toronto Conservatory of Music.

The audience was most enthusiastic and gave Madame Dusseau a hearty reception.

NEW BLOOD NEEDED IN THE SPRING TIME

Try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as a Blood Improving, Health-Restoring Tonic

Every man, woman and child needs new, rich, red blood at this time of the year. That is a scientific fact. All doctors know it. The blood grows thin and poor in the winter; there is not enough of it, and spring shows the effect. Take notice and see how many people are pale and sallow at this time of the year. They complain of being easily tired, their appetite is poor, and they are often depressed and low-spirited. That is Mother Nature urging them to improve their blood supply; but often their digestion is weakened so that they cannot turn food into blood without help. Here is where modern medical science comes to the rescue. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have a direct action on the blood and enable you to get full use of the blood-making elements in your meals. You soon feel their effect—your appetite improves, your nerves are steadier, color returns to the cheeks and lips, you have more vim and energy, and can work with less fatigue.

The value of Dr. Williams Pink Pills to all who are in what is known are a run-down condition of health is proved by the experience of Mr. John A. O'Neil, Port Hood, N.S., who says: "It is not possible for me to recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills too highly. I had been gradually growing weaker, and found it hard to do my work. I suffered from severe headaches and pains in the back. I was nervous and easily irritated, and altogether my condition was deplorable. A friend urged me to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I got a half dozen boxes. I had only taken them a short time when I found them helping me, and by the time I had taken the supply I got, I was again enjoying good health. Headaches and pains had disappeared, my nerves were strengthened and I had good reason to be thankful that I had followed the advice of my friend."

Whether you are seriously ill or merely feel easily tired and out-of-sorts, you should try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills this spring. They are sold by medicine dealers everywhere, or will be sent by mail at 50 cents a box by writing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Rice Pudding

Here's a Tastier Recipe

1 cup boiled rice
½ cup Eagle Brand Condensed Milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 egg
½ cup water
⅛ teaspoon nutmeg

Mix Eagle Brand and water together thoroughly. Beat egg and blend with the milk and vanilla. Add this mixture to the rice (boiled) and mix well. Pour into buttered pan and sprinkle top with the nutmeg. Place pan in a dish of water (as for a custard) and bake in a slow oven until a golden brown.

Serve hot or cold.

Little Stories For Bedtime

OL' MISTAH BUZZARD SEES SOMETHING

By THORNTON W. BURGESS
(Copyright)

"Wait for me!" cried little Joe Otter to Billy Mink but Billy Mink was in too much of a hurry and just ran faster.

"Wait for me!" cried Jerry Muskrat to little Joe Otter but little Joe was in too much of a hurry and just ran faster.

"Wait for me!" cried Grandfather Frog to Jerry Muskrat but Jerry was in too much of a hurry and just walked faster.

For wings are swifter than legs.

"Wait for me cried Spotty the Turtle to Grandfather Frog but Grandfather Frog was in too much of a hurry and just jumped faster.

So running and walking and jumping and crawling Billy Mink, Little Joe Otter, Jerry Muskrat, Grandfather Frog, and Spotty the Turtle hurried up the Laughing Brook to find out why it laughed no more. And high overhead in the blue blue sky sailed Ol' Mistah Buzzard and he also was looking for the trouble that had taken away the laugh from the laughing Brook and the smile from the Smiling Pool.

Now, Ol' Mistah Buzzard's eyes are very sharp, and looking down from way up in the blue, blue sky he can see a great deal. Indeed, Ol' Mistah Buzzard can see all that is going on below on the Green Meadows and in the Green Forest. His wings are very broad, and he can sail through the air very swiftly when he makes up his mind to. Now as he looked down he saw that Billy Mink was selfish and wouldn't wait for Little Joe Otter and Little Joe Otter was selfish and wouldn't wait for Grandfather Frog, and Grandfather Frog was selfish and woudn't wait for Spotty the Turtle.

"Ah reckon Ah will hurry up right smart and find out what the trouble is mahself and then go back and tell Brer Turtle; it will save him a powerful lot of work, and it will serve Brer Mink right if Brer Turtle finds out first what the trouble with the Laughing Brook is" said Ol' Mistah Buzzard, and shot far ahead over the Green Forest toward the part of it from which the Laughing Brook comes. In a few minutes he was as far ahead of Billy Mink as Billy was ahead of Spotty the Turtle.

For wings are swifter than legs,
  On whatsoever the purpose bent;
But doubly swift and tireless
  Those wings on kindly deed intent.

And this is how it happens that Ol' Mistah Buzzard was the first to find out what it was that had stopped the laughing of the Laughing Brook and the smiling of the Smiling Pool, but he was so surprised when he did find out that he forgot all about going back to tell Spotty the Turtle. He forgot everything but his own great surprise and he blinked his eyes a great many times to make sure that he wasn't dreaming. Then he sailed around and around in circles looking down among the trees of the Green Forest and saying over and over to himself:

"Did yo' ever?" No, I never! Did yo' ever?" No, I never!"

Should a Girl's Friend Tell Her of Her Fiance's Dark Past?—The Sordid Business of Postponing Happiness Until Death of Wealthy Relation—Old Story of an Aged Man and His Grafting Relatives

Dear Dorothy Dix—A young man is soon to be married to a splendid girl who is a great friend of mine. This young man has not lived a clean life and there are things in his past that are bound to act disastrously upon the woman he marries. He has not told her and I am wondering if I should not tell her. My only object is to save her unhappiness, as I am myself soon to be married to the dearest girl in the world. What should I do?

BOBBY.

Answer: It seems to me that it is your duty to tell the girl what you know about the man she is to marry. Possibly it may do no good, because a girl who is in love is generally deaf to reason, but you will have given her a chance to save herself, and at least you will have washed your hands of your responsibility in the matter.

When a man and woman are married it is a wrong and cruel thing for any one to shatter their faith in each other by revealing any wrong thing that either one is doing or has done. It does no good to tell a man of some misstep his wife has made in her youth and of which he is in ignorance, or even that she is flirtatious, or that she is indiscreet and makes eyes at other men and goes joy-riding when his back is turned. Nor does it bring a woman anything but a broken heart for some unkind friend to tell her that the husband she loves and trusts is unfaithful to her.

There is nothing that the husband and wife can do about it except to be humiliated by the bitter knowledge, and to be made jealous and miserable over it. The good husband cannot make his flighty wife staid and respectable. The good wife cannot stop her wandering husband from philandering with other women.

So the friends of married couples should hold their peace when they know something that would disrupt a home and destroy a husband's and wife's confidence in each other. But before a couple are married it is a very different matter, and then it becomes a crime for those who know some just cause why this couple should not be joined together in the bonds of holy wedlock, as the marriage service says, to remain silent.

If we saw a friend blundering out on a bridge that we knew was rotten and would break under his weight, we would shout warnings to him until we were hoarse. If we saw a friend about to plunge over a precipice to a horrible death, we would risk our own lives to save him, and we would consider ourselves cowards and morally guilty of murder if we let him go to meet a terrible fate without our having raised a hand to try to prevent it.

To make an unhappy marriage is a far worse calamity than to die, for the agony that the marriage brings endures for years, while the sufferings of death are but for an instant. Yet we will let our friends wreck their lives by making marriages that we know can bring them nothing but misery without lifting our voices in protest.

Many a girl marries a man who is a drunkard or a gambler, or a bigamist, or who is diseased, without knowing it. Many a man marries a girl with a dark past, or who has the curse of some hereditary disease in her veins, without knowing it, when each had friends who could have warned them before they took the fatal step.

Of course, the infatuated lovers may not listen. Generally they don't, and hate the one who told them the thing they didn't want to know, but at any rate he who has tried to save them has shrived his own conscience. DOROTHY DIX.

* * * * * * * * * *

Dear Miss Dix.—I am a young girl and have been married almost a year, but my husband and I do not live together, although we love each other dearly. The reason is that I have a relative who is quite wealthy and from whom I have expectations. I married a man of a different faith than hers, and if she knew that I married without her consent she would disinherit me. My mother is afraid she would disinherit her also, and she keeps me and my husband apart.

By next fall we shall have enough to start our own home and live very comfortably. Would you advise me to wait until the relative dies or be happy on our own initiative?

O.B.

Answer: I should certainly advise you and your husband to have enough spunk and backbone to announce your marriage right away and set up your own home, no matter how humble it is.

It is ill-waiting for a dead woman's shoes for many reasons. One, because they are a long time coming. People that you wait for to die seem to be endowed with as many lives as a cat and live on, and on, and on, and on.

By the time this woman dies you and your husband may be middle-aged people yourselves and you will have wasted all of the sweetness and freshness of your youth. You will have missed all the glamor of young love, and in the unnatural relationship which exists between you you will almost certainly quarrel and drift apart.

Another reason why it is ill-waiting for a dead woman's shoes is because you are so apt not to get them in the end. I have known dozens of people who danced attention for twenty or thirty years on a crotchety, whimsical old woman; who put up with her moods and insults and abuses; who were veritable slaves to her and never dared called their souls their own, and then in the end, when they expected to be repaid, when the will was read it was found that she had left her fortune to build a home for senile tomcats or disabled canary birds.

You certainly will be making a foolish gamble if you stake your life's happiness on the chances of what a notionate old woman is going to leave you when she dies.

And the third reason why it is ill-waiting for a dead woman's shoes is because nothing else is so utterly demoralizing to one's character. Every minute of the time murder will be in your heart because you are wishing that she would die and leave you free to go to your husband. It will make a liar and a hypocrite of you, because you will have to flatter and cajole her and hide from her your secret.

So I earnestly advise you to have the courage and independence to defy your relative and live your own life. You and your husband are young. Go to work and honestly earn your money. Don't wait for an old woman to give it to you. You will be a thousand times better off standing on your own feet, than you will depending on her, and you will be happier. For, take it from me, my child, if you put your husband off until your relative dies you will lose him. No man who is worth having would stand for that sort of treatment. DOROTHY DIX.

* * * * * * * * * * * *

Dear Miss Dix.—I am an old man over 70. A year ago I was nicely situated in a good hotel and had rented my home out for $200 a month. Perhaps I felt under obligations to some relatives by marriage for some nice Sunday dinners. Anyway, they came to me in a panic when they were ordered out of their apartment and told me that if I would let them go into my house they would make me a nice home with home cooking and care. In a moment of weakness I fell.

But now that I am with them I get nothing, no food, no care, no decent place to live, and I have the annoyance of the worst child I ever saw. The house is bedlam. What shall I do?

E.Q.B.

Answer: Tell your troubles to the police and get them to evict your grafting relatives so that you can rent your house out again and go back to your hotel. Your experience is that of ninety-nine old people out of a hundred who undertake to live with their kinfolks. They are all promises and no performance. DOROTHY DIX.

Menus

By SISTER MARY

BREAKFAST — Baked rhubard, cereal, cream, scrambled eggs with dried beef, graham muffins, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Creamed sardines on toast, button radishes and spring onions, cocoanut cookies, milk, tea.

DINNER—Mutton chops stuffed with sausage, scalloped potatoes, dandelion greens, jellied nut and celery salad, cheese cups, lemon cracker pudding, milk, coffee.

Jellied nut and celery salad is a delightful dish that can be made the day before needed. With spring activities upon us salads and desserts that may be prepared hours before wanted are worth keeping in mind.

Jellied Nut and Celery Salad

One cup nut meats, 1 1-2 cups minced celery, 1-2 cup heavy cream, 1 tablespoon granulated gelatine, 4 tablespoons cold water, 1 egg yolk, 3-4 cup salad oil, 1 tablespoon vinegar, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1 teaspoon sugar, 1-2 teaspoon pepper.

Mix sugar, salt and pepper with egg yolk. Beat in a few drops of vinegar. Add 1 tablespoon oil, drop by drop, beating constantly. Beat in a few drops of vinegar alternately in fashion until 1-4 cup oil is used. Then add oil in a slow stream beating constantly until all is used. Beat in remaining lemon juice. Soften gellatine in cold water and dissolve over hot water. Add slowly to mayonnaise, beating constantly. Fold in cream beaten until firm. Add nuts and celery and turn into a mold first dipped in cold water. Let stand several hours or overnight and serve on a bed of shredded new cabbage which has been carefully crisped in cold water.

TOMATO BISQUE

If you have trouble with tomato bisque soup curdling, try adding the boiling, strained and thickened tomato liquid to cold milk.

WATERY CUSTARD

Watery custard comes from too hot an oven. Bake custard with dishes set in hot water and be sure your oven is a slow one.

GIRL ALONE

By ANNE AUSTIN, Author of "SAINT AND SINNER".
Copyright 1928 by NEA Service

THIS HAS HAPPENED

The summer she is 16, SALLY FORD, ward of the state orphanage from the time she is four, is "farmed out' to CLEM CARSON. She meets DAVID NASH, athlete and student, who is working on the farm for the summer. Carson makes remarks about David's innocent friendship with Sally and the student strikes him a crushing blow.

Sally and David flee and join a carnival David as cook's helper and Sally in a sideshow disguised as "Princess Lalla," a crystal gazer. NITA, Hula dancer, who knows the police are after David and Sally, and who is infatuated with David, threatens to expose Sally if she doesn't keep "hands off" the young student.

In Capital City, Sally successfully escapes detection under the disguise of Lalla until one afternoon when the orphanage wards troop in with a beautiful woman, who is playing "Lady Bountiful" to them. One little girl recognizes Sally and shouts her name, GUS, the barker, comes to her rescue and diverts attention from her and gets the children out of the tent. Sally is surprised to see the beautiful "Lady Bountiful" stop and talk with a dark-eyed, well-dressed Easterner who earlier in the afternoon has teasingly read Sally's fortune in the crystal and asked her to go to supper with him. Sally dislikes him and refuses. She hears these two speak of New York and call each other Enid and Van. A terrible storm comes up, and the tent blows down. Sally finds herself in the strong arms of the Easterner, who tells her he knows who she is. When they are rescued, Sally looks about and finds David and Nita missing. That night BYBEE'S safe is robbed.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXIX

"Everybody tumble out! Pop Bybee wants us all in the privilege car," a carnival employe shouted, running down the sleeping car and pausing only to thrust a hand into each berth, like a Pullman porter awakening his passengers.

But Sally was already dressing, getting her dress on backwards and sobbing with futile rage at the time lost in reversing it. When she was scrambling out of her upper berth, a tiny hand reached out of the lower and tugged at her foot.

"Don't forget me, Sally," the midget commanded sharply. "And for heaven's sake, don't take on so. You will make yourself sick, crying like that. Of course your David didn't rob the safe. I'm all dressed."

Sally parted the green curtains and stretched out her arms for the midget, who was so short that she could stand upright upon her bed without her head touching the rounded support of the upper berth. Little Miss Tanner ran into Sally's arms and clambered to her shoulder.

"It's that Nita." She nodded her miniature head emphatically. "I always did have my suspicions about her. Always turning white as a sheet when a policeman hove into sight."

"But David's missing, too," Sally sobbed, as she hurried down the aisle which was becoming choked with frowsy-headed women in all stages of dress and undress. "Of course he didn't do it—"

"Hurry up, everybody! Don't take time to primp, girls!" a man bawled at them from the door.

They found most of the men employes and performers of the carnival already assembled with the Bybees in the privilege car. Pop Bybee's usually lobster-colored face was as white as putty, but his arm was gallantly about his wife's shoulder. Mrs. Bybee still wore the black sateen petticoat and red sweater in which she had hurried from the show train to the carnival immediately after the storm. Her reddened eyes showed that she had been crying bitterly, but as the carnival family crowded into the privilege car she searched each face with fury and suspicion.

"Come here to me, Sally Ford!" she shrilled, when Sally entered the car with "Pitty Sing" riding on her shoulder.

"Now, honey, go easy!" Pop Bybee cautioned her futilely. "Better let me do the talking—"

"You shut up!" his wife commanded angrily. "Sally, you knew where I kept the money! You saw the safe! Oh, I was a fooll, all right, but I wanted to show that I trusted you! Huh! Thought I'd wronged you by accusing you of taking presents from my husband! Tell him you saw the safe! Tell him!" And she seized Sally's wrist and shook her so that the midget had to cling tightly to the girl's neck to keep from being catapulted to the floor.

"Yes, Mrs. Bybee," Sally answered, her voice almost dying in her throat with fright. "I saw the safe. But I didn't tell anybody—"

"You're a liar!" Mrs. Bybee screamed. "You told that David boy that very night! Sneaked off and went walking with him and cooked up this robbery so you two could make your getaway. Thought it was a grand way to get out of the state so the cops couldn't pinch you, didn't you? Didn't you. Didn't you?" she repeated, beside herself with anger, her fingers clamped like a vise on Sally's wrist.

"Oh, please!" Sally moaned, writhing with a pain of which she was scarcely conscious, so great was her fear and bewilderment at this unexpected charge.

"Sally certainly didn't go with him," Pop Bybee interposed reasonably.

"Sure she didn't!" his wife shrilled with angry triumph. "She couldn't! She was buried under the tent! If it hadn't been for the storm she would not be here now. [illegible] sympathies with them dying-calf eyes of hers—"

"Better let me handle thsi, honey," Pop Bybee interrupted again, this time more firmly. "Turn the child loose. Ain't a bit of use breaking her arm now, folks, I might as well tell you all just what happened, and then try to get to the bottom of this matter. When the worst of the storm was over Mrs. Bybee left the show train to look for me, to see if I was hurt or if she could do anything for anyone who was. She hadn't been out of the stateroom all evening till then—not since she'd put some money into the safe right after supper. She found the boy Dave starting out to look for Sally, and she ordered him to stay on the train to keep an eye on it, in case tramps or crooks tried to board it. There wasn't anybody else on the train. That right, Mother?"

He turned to Mrs. Bybee, who nodded angrily.

"She told him she'd look after Sally, but he'd have to stand guard on the train. She didn't say anything to him about the safe, just told him to patrol the train while she was gone. The safe is under a seat in our stateroom, and far as we knew, nobody knew where it was, except Sally here, who happened to come into the stateroom when my wife was counting a day's receipts."

"Please, Mr. Bybee," Sally interrupted, memory struggling with the panic in her brain. "Someone else did know! Nita knew! When I left the stateroom that last day in Stanton I saw Nita disappearing into the women's dressing room, and I thought she'd been listening. She—"

"Hold on a minute!" Bybee cut in sternly. "How do you know she'd been listening? Any proof?"

"Yes, sir!" Sally cried eagerly. "Mrs. Bybee had been telling me that she'd found out that Ford isn't my real name, that the woman I always thought was my mother wasn't really my mother at all. She said she guessed I—that my mother was ashamed I'd ever been born. And that same day Nita called me a—a—bad name that means—" She could not go on. Sobs began to shake her small body again and her face was scarlet witih shame.

"That's right!" Gus, the barker edged toward Bybee through the crowd. "I found Sally lighting into Nita for calling her that name. And Nita didn't deny she'd done it. Reckon that proves she was eavesdropping, all right. And if she was listening in, she was probably peeping in, too, or heard Mrs. Bybee talking about the safe. Was the door open, ma'am?"

"I don't know!" Mrs. Bybee snapped "Yes, it may have been. It was awful hot. And I didn't know anybody was on the train."

"It was open a little way," Sally cried. "I remember distinctly. Because I worried about whether Nita had overheard what Mrs. Bybee had been telling me. And there's something else—something that happened that night, when David and I were walking." Memory of that blessed hour in the moonlight brought tears to her eyes, but she dashed them away with the wrist which bore the marks of Mrs. Bybee's rage.

"What was it, Sally?" Pop Bybee asked gently. "All we want is to get at the truth of this thing. Don't be afraid to speak up."

"I hate being a tattle-tale," Sally whimpered. "I never told on anyone before in all my life! But David and I were sitting under a tree, not talking, when we suddenly heard Nita's voice. She couldn't see us for the tree, but we peeped around the trunk of it and we saw Nita and a man walking awfully close together, and Nita was talking. We just heard the words. She said: 'No monkey business now, Steve. If you double-cross me I'll cut your heart out! Fifty-fifty or nothing—' "

Unconsciously her voice had mimicked Nita's, so that to the startled carnival family it seemed that Nita, the Hula dancer, had appeared suddenly in the car.

"Sounds like Nita, all right." Gus, the barker, nodded with satisfaction.

"Steve, huh? Who the devil is this Steve?"

"What did he look like, Sally?" Bybee asked.

"I don't know," she answered, her big blue eyes imploring him to believe her. "We couldn't see their faces. We just recognized Nita's voice and her yellow hair that looked almost white in the moonlight. He wasn't tall, not any taller than Nita, and I guess he wasn't very big either, because they were so close together that they looked almost like one person. We didn't hear the man say a word Nita was doing all the talking—"

"Nita would!" a voice from the crowd growled. "Reckon I can tell something about this, Pop. I was just ready to ballyhoo the last performance of the 'girlie' show when Nita come slouching up to me, pulling a long face and a song-and-dance about being knocked out at the last show and I thought Nita might really be all in, so I told her she could cut the last performance and go to the dress tent. I never seen hair nor hide of her again, and—" he paused significantly, "I don't reckon I ever will."

"No, I reckon you won't, not unless the cops nab her," Mrs. Bybee cut in bitterly. "I always said she was a snake in the grass! And that David too. Them goody-goody kind ain't ever worth the powder and lead it'd take to blow out their brains! I told you, Winfield Bybee, that there was something phony about that hussy and Dave! 'Tain't like a star performer like Nita thought she was to trail around after a cook's helper, like she done with Dave. They didn't pull the wool over my eyes, even if they did double-cross the kid here—if they did double-cross her! Mind you, Bybee, I ain't saying I believe a word she's been saying! She knew where the safe was, and she tipped off the boy.

"I ain't forgot they was both wanted by the police when they joined up with us! As I said before, if it hadn't been that she was buried under the freak tent, she'd have skipped with Nita and Dave. You roped Nita in on your little scheme, didn't you, because she'd had more experience cracking safes than you or the boy. That's right, ain't ti?" the old lady demanded fiercely of Sally.

Sally shrank from her in horror, but the midget, still perched on her shoulder, patted her cheek reassuringly. "No, no! I didn't even tell David where the safe was! I didn't! David didn't do it! He couldn't! David's good! He's the best man in the world!"

"Then where is he?" Mrs. Bybee screamed. "Why did he blow? I left him to guard the train, didn't I? And he ain't here, is he? He wasn't here when we got back from the carnival lot after the tents were raised. If he's so damned good, why did he blow with Nita and this Steve you've made up out of your head?"

"Now now, Mother," Pop Bybee soothed her, but his eyes were troubled and suspicious. "Reckon we'd better notify the police, folks. I hate to call in the law. I've always said I was the law of this outfit, but I suppose if I've been harboring thieves I'll have to get the help of the law to track 'em down. Ben, you and Chuck beat it down the tracks to the police station and give 'em a description of Nita and Dave and this Steve person, as much as Sally's been able to tell us anyway—"

"Please, Mr. Bybee!" Sally ran to the showman and seized both his hands in hers. "Please don't set the police on David! I know he's inocent! There's some reason why he isn't here—a good reason! But he didn't have anything to do with the robbery. I know that! But if you tell the police he's been with the carnival they'll find him somehow and put him in jail on those other charges—and me too! It doesn't matter about me, but I couldn't live if David was put in jail on my account! Oh, please! You've been so good to us!" And she went suddenly on her knees to him, her face upraised in an agony of appeal.

Winnipeg Toilers Win First Game Senior Men's Basketball Title Series

SIX TEAMS TO BE SEEN IN ACTION HERE

Three Nights of Brilliant Basketball Scheduled At Arena

With five games and six teams in action over the weekend, there ought to be enough basketball to suit even the most dyed-in-the-wool fan. We are used to two-game series, but the argument between the Toronto Lakesides and the Grads is to extend over three nights, with the final night's performance taking the form of a novelty game such as has never before been witnessed on a local court.

It would be hard to imagine a more interesting program than that lined up for Saturday night, when four of the strongest teams in the Dominion—two ladies' and two men's—will furnish the excitement for the fans. The preliminary will bring together the Vancouver Varsity and the local Y.M.C.A. The coast boys have established a splendid reputation this season and are now busy in the western playdowns, while the "Y" team, under the efficient coaching of Hugh John Macdonald, has come along like a house afire, and should give the Vancouver team a real argument.

Second Game

The second game will bring together the latest Toronto aspirants for the Dominion championship silverware, and as this will be the first time the Lakesides have shown their wares in Edmonton, their coming is being looked forward to with unusual interest—the more especially since they have the honor of being one of the few teams that have managed to take the Grads down the line. The Toronto girls, accompanied by a whole retinue of advisers, left home last night, and are travelling in a special car via Canadian National. Everything possible is being done to make their trip an enjoyable one, and there should be no alibis on the ground of fatigue if the Grads manage to slip over a win.

The second night's attractions will bring the same two teams together, and if things run according to form, the Monday night's game ought to be even more interesting than the first. It usually takes a full game for two teams to become accustomed to each other's style, after which they loosen up and play the open type of game which is always more popular with the fans than a hard, close-checking affair. The preliminary between the Gradettes and the Great West Garment girls ought to prove interesting also.

Final Match

For the final night, arrangements have been made to hold the Lakesides over an extra day, in order to give the Gradettes their first opportunity to match their skill against an outside senior team. A good many fans who have seen the Gradettes in action have an idea that they are just about good enough to match most of these visiting teams. While this opinion is probably a bit too optimistic, the fact remains that they ought to give a good account of themselves. At half time, the Grads will take over whatever score their kid sisters have made for them, and as it is expected that the Lakesides will have a lead of at least ten points, it will give the Grads an opportunity to see how good they really are. It will be something out of the ordinary to see the local girls with ten or more points to make up, and if they can do it they will stand out as one of the greatest teams of all time.

Did any player make at least one hit every game during the 1927 world series between the Yankees and Pirates?

Has any batter faced a pitcher three times in one inning in recent years?

Did any pinch-hitter hit a home run in 1927 with the bases filled?

Yes. Lloyd Waner and Clyde Barnhart of the Pirates and Mark Koenig of the Yankees did.

Martin Callaghan of Chicago versus Philadelphia on August 25, 1922, was at bat three times in the fourth inning.

Tolson, batting for a pitcher for Chicago, hit a homer with the bases loaded against the Pirates in May, 1927.

Canadian Women Golfers Are In Calgary Today

Exclusive to Bulletin

WINNIPEG, Man., April 17.—Two of Canada's outstanding lady golfers, Mrs. Leonard Murray and Mrs. M. K. Rowe of Toronto, president and secretary of the Canadian ladies' golf union, spent several hours in Winnipeg Monday, leaving on the Canadian Pacific Vancouver Express for Calgary. They will be the guests of the lady golfers in that city and will later visit clubs on the prairie cities. Miss Evelyn Mills of Ottawa is with them.

At Calgary an exhibition game will be played by Miss Helen Paget, and Miss Mills, two of the most expert younger players of Canada. Miss Paget whose home is in Ottawa, has been playing on Pacific Coast courses. She will join the party and travel to Regina where exhibition games will be played.

Tom Heeney Thinks He Has Good Chance

LONDON, April 17.—Tom Heeney, the New Zealand challenger, picked to fight Gene Tunney for the heavyweight championship in July, thinks he has at least an even chance of winning the title.

"It's a 50-50 break on my chances," he said Monday. "I give Tunney full credit for not picking a lemon when given the choice of three opponents."

Heeney said he had done no serious training since leaving the United States for a short vacation here, but will sail for the United States in about 10 days to set up training quarters either at Atlantic City or some other seaside resort.

GEHRIG GETS SECOND HOMER

Boston Loses Out To Hard Hitting Yankees by 7-2

NEW YORK, April 17.—Lou Gehrig's second home run of the season, off Danny MacFayden with nobody on base in the second inning, was the first shot in a barrage which enabled the New York Yanks to win, 7 to 2, in their first game in Boston this season. The Yanks drove MacFayden from the box with a five run rally which put the game on ice in the third.

Manager Schalk shook up his lineup, put Alphonse Thomas on the mound and the White Sox defeated the St. Louis Browhs, 7 to 0, for their first victory of the season at Chicago Monday. In addition to holding the slugging Browns, Thomas hit a home run.

Two costly errors by Marty McManus, Tiger third baseman, contributed to Detroit's 5 to 4 defeat by the Cleveland Indians in the third game of the series at Detroit Monday.

The Washington Senators defeated the Athletics in the first of a three-game series at Philadelphia Monday 5 to 4. It was the third straight defeat for the Mac men.

Cy Williams' Homer Wins For Phillies by 7-5

NEW YORK, April 17.—The New York Giants suffered their first defeat of the season here Monday when Cy Williams, pinch batsman for Bob McGraw, touched Fitzsimmons for a home run with two Phillies on base in the eighth. Philadelphit won 7 to 5. This was the first circuit smash of the championship campaign for Williams, who tied with Hack Wilson of the Cubs for the National league home run leadership last season.

The Boston Braves won their first victory of the championship season at Brooklyn Monday when they came from behind in the eighth to defeat the Brooklyn Robins 3 to 2. Hornsby led the Boston attack with three singles in four times at bat.

The Chicago Cubs pounded Jess Haines for seven hits in the first five innings at St. Louis and won from the Cardinals, 6 to 3. Webo made a homer in the fifth.

Donie Bush's Pirate artillery swung into action against Eppa Rixey and Jim Edwards at Cincinnati to win the third game of the series 8 to 1.

SWIFT'S BOWLERS CELEBRATE

The Bowling league of Swift Canadian Co., Ltd., wound up a most successful season on Thursday with an enjoyable banquet at the Shasta Cafe, where about 45 guests sat down to an excellent turkey supper. The proceedings opened with the singing of "Hail, Hail the Gang's All Here", after which there was not a dull moment.

F. C. Wells proved a most able toastmaster and his directing of the community singing went over in big league style. He was responsible for many witty jokes at the expense of the members, some of whom proved themselves even more proficient at singing than at bowling.

Our worthy Chief of Police, A. G. Shute was an honored guest and in a short speech complimented Swift's emplayees upon their sportsmanship and good citizenship.

Prizes were awarded to the members of the two leading teams—the Silverleafs and Vets and a Premium Ham donated by G. R. Robertson, popular manager of the lacal plant, was presented to H. Harder, Jr., who made the highest individual score during the season. Booby prizes were also presented amidst roars of laughter to the members of the "Oxfords", which team finished in the cellar.

Secretary J. Mellan and the members who assisted him are to be congratulated upon arranging such a successful affair. The bowlers are also indebted to Messrs Jones and Cross who so kindly loaned them a piano for the occasion and to the management of the Shasta for the excellent fair provided.

Englishman Leads In Big Marathon

TULSA, Okla., April 17.—Forty-three days out of Los Angeles, and with approximately half the distance to New York covered, the seventy odd cross-country marathoners camped here last night with Peter Gavuzzi, Southampton, England, winner of Monday's lap from Bristow, 41.7 miles, which he covered in four hours and 47 minutes. He also is the leader in elapsed time, 270, 41, 05. Andrew Payne, Oklahoma's entry, is in second place.

John Cronick, Saskatoon, is in tenth position in 5, 45, 09—317, 37, 44. Phillip Granville, Hamilton, Ont., is in seventh place, 6, 06, 32—305, 10, 51. Harold McNutt, Calgary, was among the stragglers today, and was not in early last night.

SPORT REVIEW

BY KEN McCONNELL

Springfield Indians, for the second year in succession, won the championship of the Canadian-American Professional Hockey league when they defeated Quebec Beavers recently in a five-game series. Edmonton hockey fans will be interested in this because one of the main reasons for the Indians' great victory was Leroy Goldsworthy, an Edmonton boy and a chap who played in junior, senior and finally professional hockey in this city.

• • •

Leroy, the past two seasons, has been with Springfield and under the coaching of a man who formerly looked after the University of Toronto hockey clubs, Frank Carroll, he has become one of the finest prospects in the many minor hockey leagues.

He has played right wing regularly and is right up amongst the leading scorers. During the playoff series he secured a goal in each of the five games. In the opening match he scored the only tally of the game.

• • •

This fellow Carroll is undoubtedly a great coach. Local fans will also remember Everett McGowan, the celebrated speed-artist who gave up the "long blades" to join the Edmonton Esks when that team entered the Prairie League. McGowan is now playing left defence for the Springfield club and he is one of the outstanding players in every game in which the team takes part.

He always had plenty of speed. He now can stick-handle, check hard and comeback to his position like a whirlwind, back-checking all the way.

It was considered that McGowan would never make much of a hockey player. He was a speed skater, said his critics, and nothing else.

But Coach Carroll did not believe them and neither did Everett—both have made good.

• • •

Mickey Ion, the former hockey official in the Pacific Coast League and Mike Rodden, both National Hockey league referees now, handled the Springfield-Quebec series and they had plenty to do.

Newsy Lalonde, who piloted Saskatoon in other days, but is now manager of the Quebec club, had plenty of arguments but Ion, as usual, was capable of "out-motioning" Newsy on every occasion. Ion usually won, as we remember him.

• • •

J. Percy Page, the great coach of the Commercial Grads, is going to give his team one of the hardest games of their career when he sends them into action against the Toronto Lakeside next Tuesday evening after the Gradettes have battled with Easterners for the opening twenty minutes.

Possibly the Gradettes will hold the Lakeside to a fifteen point margin. What a battle that will be when the Grads are shot into the game under such a handicap!

Edmonton fans like to see the champions extended for they play super-basketball when they find themselves up against real opposition.

And the Grads will, providing they receive the odd break, make it decidedly interesting for the visitors. But if the locals actually win out, no one will be surprised.

• • •

It does seem, sometimes, as if this onrush of women into jobs, that have always been traditionally men's is never going to stop.

The latest, seen in an eastern exchange, is the worst. In Iowa a girl has won the position of rightfielder on a high school baseball team. It is a regular high school and a regular team. The girl was much better than the various young fellows who tried to make their positions in the gardens. She could hit; run better than anybody else on the team and the way she looks after the fielding end of the game, puts the boys to shame. It used to be: "the women's place is in the home."

Women's place nowadays seems to be wherever she darn pleases to make it!

Ryan Cup Game Is Scheduled for Tonight

Tonight at Diamond Park, Eastwood and the Radial Rovers meet in a scheduled Ryan Cup fixture. Play is billed to get underway at 6:15 sharp.

Both clubs will be at full strength for this evening's clash and soccer fans should be treated to a fine exhibition.

W. Wraight will handle the game.

Eastwood and Norwood, junior teams, play a scheduled game or Wednesday at the Exhibitior Grounds, 6:15 o'clock. A. Youn will referee.

Montreal Maroons Runners-up To Rangers Disbanc

MONTREAL, April 17.—Montreal Maroons, runners-up to the New York Rangers in the Stanley cup series for the world's professional hockey championship, disbanded Monday and while a number of the players are in Montreal still, the majority are speeding to their respective homes to spend the off-season.

President James Strachan and manager Eddie Gerard, were busy today settling affairs with the members of the team. Included in their tasks was the pleasant duty of presenting to each of the players a bonus of $1,000, a bonus personally subscribed by the directors of the hockey club and a number of admirers of the team. Besides this the players received a bonus of $500 each from the Canadian Arena company, which operates the Montreal Hockey club—all a tribute to the players for their excellent showing during the past season.

OPENING GAME FIRST DIVISION ON WEDNESDAY

Final Vets-Martin is Now Scheduled April 25—School Soccer

The first game in the first division of the Edmonton and District Football association is scheduled for Wednesday evening at Diamond Park when the Canadian Nationals and Callies meet at 6:15 o'clock.

The Nationals have been strengthened considerably since they played in the Vets-Martin competition and it should be a very interesting game. Billy Griffiths will referee.

The lineup will be: Hertsog; Harry Britt, Wilce; Neville, Orchin, McKay; W. Weir, Young, Ray, J. Graham, Tom Hunter. Reserves: Varley and Varley, Scott, Hubbert, Miller.

At the council meeting last night it was decided that the final game in the Vets-Martin competition between the Canadian Legion and Callies would be played on Wednesday, April 25. Billy Thompson will referee.

Callies and Canadian Legion meet in the first game of the Charity Shield. Canadian Nationals and Marswells are scheduled for the other game in the semi-finals.

Secretary Tommy Faweus of the E. D. F. A. has been instructed to have a suitable fence erected on the south side of the football pitch at Diamond Park. It will be six or eight feet from the touch line.

Charlie M. Small, representing the Dominion Football Association; Billy Quinn, president Edmonton and District Football association and W. S. McKenzie, representing the Alberta Football association asked the Edmonton Public School board for their support in organizing provincial public school soccer football championships. The School Board endorsed the plan.

This means that every public school football team in the province will have a chance to win the provincial championship. McLeod, Sinclair, K. C., well-known sportsman of Calgary, has donated a magnificent cup and suitable medals will also be given the winning team.

Dates for the championship playdowns will be announced later. It is a splendid idea of the soccer men and it will undoubtedly help the game of soccer football throughout the province and Western Canada. Dates for the game will be named as soon as possible.

CANADIAN CHAMPIONS RALLY TO DEFEAT VANCOUVER 30-26

British Columbia Team Was in Lead at Half Time by Four Points — Second Game to be Played Wednesday

WINNIPEG, April 17.—Trailing the strong basketball team of the University of British Columbia, Vancouver, for the greater part of the way, the Winnipeg Toilers, displaying old-time vim and dash, tied the score at the end of the regular playing time, and in a dashing five-minute overtime session established a four point lead to give them a 30 to 26 victory, here last night. At half time the Varsity boys were leading with a 13 to 9 tally, and at full time the score was 25 all.

A second game, to be played Wednesday night, will decide the western Canada championship, the winners earning the right to travel east for the dominion finals.

The Toilers, 1927 champions, went up against a younger and faster team, but their close in-shooting gave them the margin over the long range shots of Varsity.

Teams and Summary

Vancouver—Mayers, 15; Grant, 6; McEwen, 0; Butler, 4; Straight, 0; Henderson, 1; McDonald, 0; Robinson, 0; Paulson, 0.

Toilers, Winnipeg—Sinclair, 5; Silverthorn, 2; Ferguson, 3; Wooley, 4; Clifford, 7; Mott, 2; Wilson, 7; Thorogood, 0; Rattray, 0.

Referee—R. Holzer, Fargo, N.D.

The funeral of the late Louis Joseph Miller, who passed away on Monday, April 16th, will be held Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock from the family residence to St. Joseph's Cathedral. Interment will be made in the Edmonton Catholic Cemetery. The deceased was until recently a commercial telegrapher with the Canadian National Railways and prior to that with the Canadian Pacific Railway in a similar capacity and had a wide circle of friends in the city. He leaves to mourn his loss his mother and brother Harold of Edmonton and his brother Malcolm of Vancouver. Connelly-McKinley Ltd., have charge of arrangements.

Telephone Revenue for Week Increases

With 14,929 telephones in operation, a considerable increase over the number of subscribers for the same week in 1927, revenue from the city owned telephones for the week ending April 16 amounted to $53,559.46. The revenue for the same period last year was $27,878.84, while the revenue for the year to date amounts to $220,907.20 against $209, 816.01 for the same period in 1927.

Commissioner Mitchell stated that the telephone department is continuing to show considerable expansion with a steady rise in revenue.

If nitrate of soda is applied in the form of crystals it will burn the grass; it should be dissolved in water and diluted somewhat.

WHEAT SLUMPS 3 CENTS DOWN

WINNIPEG, April 17—Wheat values underwent a drastic decline on the Winnipeg market today under the influence of persistent profit-taking sales and bearish reports from the outside.

Weakness was manifest from the opening gong although mild recoveries were recorded periodically.

The current dip reflected a loss of 4 cents from the close of yesterday, but final quotations showed net losses of 3¼ to 3½c for the day.

The Canadian government report, which estimated approximately 219,000,000 bushels of wheat in the country was an important factor in the down trend.

The coarse grains dropped in sympathy with wheat.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, April 17—Forecasts of rain in the southwest gave a sharp setback today to wheat values here. Besides the Liverpool wheat market displayed unexpected weakness and the quantity of wheat in Canada was shown to be 10,000,000 bushels more than had been reported. Opening ⅝ to 2⅝c off, Chicago wheat subsequently developed considerable power to rally.

Corn started unchanged to ½c down and later scored some gains.

Oats were firm.

Winnipeg Grain Letter

WINNIPEG, April 17—Wheat advanced into new high levels early in the session on heavy commission house buying but forecasts for rain in the American southwest brought heavy realizing sales and the market had a sharp break at mid-day, running into many stop-losses. Support was withdrawn and closing prices were close to the low for the day. The technical situation has been considerably improved as a result of the shake-up, and there was nothing in the news outside of the forecast to warrant the decline.

Liverpool closed ¾ higher.

A Kansas weekly report complained of serious damage from high winds and lack of moisture in the western part of the state. There was no rain reported last night in the southwest, although it was cloudy in parts. Export business was of small proportion. With the existing situation in the American winter wheat territory, and the continued adverse reports from European countries, nothing more than temporary declines are expected, but the market has had a fast upturn and irregular fluctuations are to be expected. Faavor purchases at existing levels.

MONTREAL PRODUCE

MONTREAL, April 17—Eggs, steady; butter, firm; cheese, unchanged.

Cheese, westerns, 22 to 23.

Butter, No. 1 pasteurized, 37¾ to 38¾.

LOVE AFTER 30?

Here are two people who would like to meet Will Durant, the philosopher who says there's no romance after 30, and talk it over with him. They are Francisca Valverde (below), who modestly puts her age at 120, and her new husband, David Valverde, 78. The other day they were married in Phoenix, Ariz., after a friendship of 30 years.

Hearing a chinking sound as he passed a scarecrow whose overcoat was flapping in the wind, a farmer of Trier (Germany) investigated and discovered coins totalling nearly $250.

Half of the 300,000 workers in the British civil service receive a wage averaging less than $15 a week.

Toronto Stocks

TORONTO, April 17—A downward trend was shown on the Toronto stock exchange today. International Nickel after opening unchanged from yesterday's close at 90½ eased down to 88¾, at noon, for a net loss of 1¾ points. Page Hersey suffered a 3¼ point loss, selling down to 99¼, while Laura Secord and Canadian Industrial Alcohol suffered a point loss. International Petroleum and Northern Bakeries were active, selling down ¾ and ½ point, respectively.

Banks suffered considerably, Bank of Toronto after opening at 320 slumped to 316 at the close for a loss of 9. Commerce, Royal, Dominion and Imperial also suffered losses of from 4 to 7 points. Montreal and Nova Scotia registered point gains at 390 and 405, respectively.

The electrical contract for the Weber Brothers' building has been let to the Economy Electric Company, Illuminating Engineers and Contractors. This building will be the most up-to-date in Western Canada, having approximately thirty telephones.

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, April 17—Stock prices suffered another sharp setback today, despite efforts of speculators for the advance to maintain bullish enthusiasm by bidding up a selected list of oil, food and public utility shares. Losses in the active issues ranged from 1 to nearly 6 points. The ticker was fifty minutes behind the market at the end of the third hour.

While the reaction was regarded in some quarters as a correction of an overbought specalative position, persistent liquidation of long holdings was reported by traders and investors who were becoming increasingly alarmed over the credit situation.

Twenty oil shares and half a dozen or more public utilities were bid up to record high prices in the early hours of trading, but part of the gains were forfeited when the selling movement assumed broad proportions.

Radio and General Electric each broke more than five points, the former touching 159½ as against a high of 196½ a few weeks ago. General Motors, Allied Chemical and Continental Can reacted four points or more, and Graham-Paige, New York Central, General Railway Signal American Smelting, Wright Aeronautical and Union Carbide dipped at least three points before buying support became effective. Losses of 1 to 2 points were scattered throughout the general list.

The closing was heavy.

Adams Express rose seven points and Congoleum, Nairn and Endicott Johnson reached new high ground above 29 and 84 respectively.

Total sales, 4,000,000 shares.

Toronto Mines

TORONTO, April 17—Practically all of the higher-priced issues on the Standard Mining exchange Monday shared in the most sensational break that the market has experienced in many months. The total volume of sales was not unusually high, standing at 1,517,307 shares. A few stocks moved contrary to the general tendency, the most conspicuous of which were Teck Hughes and Gold Hill. Sherritt-Gordon was the leader in the reaction, opening at $6.50, a few cents above its previous closing price, and slumping steadily to $6.05, a net loss of 70 cents. No special reason for the weakness could be learned.

Hudson Bay Mining and Smelting was 30 cents lower at $16.50 and Mandy was off 20 cents to $2.60. In the face of an encouraging progress report Central Manitoba eased 5 cents to $1.26.

Sudbury Basin declined 50 cents to $9.15 and Treadwell Yukon was 50 cents lower at $23.

Teck Hughes was one of the few bright spots in the list, moving up 5 cents to $8.85, while Cambro-Kirkland advanced 5 cents to 45 cents in light trading. Wright Hargreaves fell back 24 cents to $4.26 and Kirkland Lake Gold dropped 12 cents to $1.84.

Would Ask League to Sit in Ottawa

OTTAWA, April 17—That Premier W. L. Mackenzie King should attend as Canada's representative, a meeting of the council of the League of Nations while the dominion has a seat on it, and that he should invite the council to hold one of its sessions in Ottawa, was one of the suggestions made in an address made here by Sir Herbert Ames, former financial secretary of the League of Nations. Sir Herbert was speaking in support of the campaign for 100,000 new members of the League of Nations Society of Canada.

Laborers to Ask Increase in Wages

Representatives of the Common Laborers Union No. 92, taking in casual labor employed by the city as well as the permanent employes in several departments will meet the civic finance committee to ask an agreement at 50 cents an hour for the coming year.

The present rate of wages for this class of work is 48 cents for the first six months and 52 cents for the second and thereafter but the majority o the men afected are only casual laborers, and those who might be adversely affected by a flat 50 cent rate through being employed permanently receive compensations in the way of sick leave holidays with pay, and other considerations which are not received by the casual laborer.

Public Confidence!

THE strength of a banking institution lies, not in brick and stone, but in public confidence. Seventy-two years ago The Bank of Toronto set for itself a standard of conservatism and adherence to sound banking principles which deserved confidence and has made it one of Canada's strongest financial institutions with assets of over $129,000,000.

The policy that developed this banking strength has built sound financial foundations for many of the Dominion's well-known industrial and agricultural enterprises. It is a good policy for your business.

Famous Players Canadian Corporation
-- Limited --

6% FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS, DUE 1948

Eight years ago, when Famous Players Canadian Corporation was organized, it controlled 16 motion picture theatres with a total seating capacity of 15,000. Its growth since then has been both substantial and profitable. The Company now owns, leases, controls or is affiliated with 123 theatres, with a total seating capacity of approximately 140,000, in leading cities from Montreal to Victoria; and is by far the predominating factor in the operation of motion picture theatres throughout Canada. Its gross earnings have increased from $2,000,000 in 1921 to more than $6,000,000 in 1927.

Among the attractive features of the Company's business, from the investor's standpoint, are that its principal assets are represented by centrally situated city real estate and properties, and that earning power is not subject to undue fluctuation due to changing economic conditions in any particular city or territory.

As against the $5,000,000 of 6% First Mortgage Bonds which we now offer, the Company's balance sheet shows assets at a conservative value of $9,673,713, after deducting depreciation and outstanding mortgages. Franchises, contracts, leaseholds, etc., carried at a value of $6,114,539, are not included in these assets, although approximately 40% of the Company's profits last year were derived from leasehold properties.

The Company's average annual earnings, two years and five months ended January 28th, 1928, available for bond interest, were equivalent to 3.61 times the yearly interest requirement of these bonds.

GREAT SCHEME TO RE-FOREST BRITAIN, PLAN

LONDON, April 17.—The vision of a huge forest on the borders of Suffolk and Norfolk, where people 20 or 30 years hence can live or spend their holidays, is conjured up by the progress which the Forestry Commissioners are making with their woodland at Thetford.

"This season," declared the secretary to the Commissioners to a reporter, "we are planting 3,100 acres of pine, larch, fir and spruce in this area, which is already larger than the New Forest. Timber for pit props will be available in 20 years, small timber in 30 years, and big timber in 50 or 60 years. When the trees reach maturity there is no doubt that at places like Thetford villages will spring up in the forest clearings, where people will live and visitors come to renew their health. The hamlets will bring into being workshops as in Germany, where craftsmen can turn out clogs, chairs, barrels and baskets. There is sufficient undulating country in the neighborhood to lend variety to the lay-out of the trees."

In reclaiming the waste lands the Commissioners are rapidly changing the face of the country, so that emigrants returning to their native spots in 30 years time will scarcely know them—since 1920 over 94,000 acres in about 10 centres have been planted with approximately 1,800 trees to the acre.

Great Britain is planting more trees than any other country in the world, and it is hoped that eventually it will be able to suupply a considerable part of its timber needs. This season 23,000 more trees are going into the land. In a little over three years 380 forest workers' holdings have been set up in the forests, and 220 more are on the way. In the winter the men are sure of 150 days' work in the woods, while in the summer they can raise cows, bees, chickens, on their miniature farms ranging up to 10 acres.

The foresters who supervise the planting wear a khaki cloth uniform.

ANOTHER DEPT. AT WOODWARD'S

Addition of another extension to the rapidly developing department store o C. Woodward Ltd. was forenouncement of the opening of an upnouncement of the opening of an up-to-date optical department equipped with the latest scientific optometry devices, and under the charge of R. F. Mainward, for the past seven years one of the leading optometrists in Calgary.

Mr. Mainward, who is well known in the profession, studied at the Northampton Institute in London, England, and afterwards graduated from the University of Alberta. He has been practising in Calgary since 1921, and in the new optical department of C. Woodward Ltd. will have one of the most up-to-date and best equipped optical departments in Western Canada. The new department, which will be attached to the drug department of the big store, will be open on Tuesday.

SETTLERS POUR INTO EDMONTON

With daily trains pouring emigrants into Edmonton, the 1928 immigration drive to Western Canada is well under way. Both the Canadian National railways and the Canadian Pacific railways are expecting heavy influxes this week.

Officials of the Canadian Pacific railway colonization department report that 160 newcomers will arrive Tuesday, with another 200 Saturday. Other arrivals are expected throughout the week.

Scandinavia is represented by 55 new settlers in the Canadian National railways immigrant arrivals over the week-end. One British family of six and two German families also arrived over the week-end.

A number of British families from the Old Country are expected to arrive this week.

Mayor Bury Wires Urging Abolition of Tax on City Gravel

Urging Hon. R. B. Bennett to take up with the committee considering the Special War Revenue Tax act amendments the advisability of having municipal gravel pits exempted from the sales tax, Mayor A. U. G. Bury has wired the Conservative leader following receipt of word that the bill is now in committee.

At the present time there is an Exchequer court action against the city of Winnipeg to recover the sales tax for gravel used from a municipal pit, and similar action against Edmonton was stayed at the request of Mayor Bury pending the decision in the Winnipeg action.

Meantime the bill has gone to committee for amendments, and Mayor Bury has asked Mr. Bennett to urge an admendment making it clear that gravel from city pits, used exclusively for the up-keep and maintenance of city streets, shall not be liable to the sales tax.

Spring Work Held up Near Belvedere

Exclusive to Bulletin

BELVEDEERE, April 17.—Spring work is not expected to commence for about ten days yet, as the weather has been very unsettled and considerable snow has fallen which will make the fields too wet for cultivation for some time. The roads are also in bad condition. The ice has not gone out of the Pembina.

The spelling match held by the U. F.A. local Saturday night proved to be very interesting. H. Bemis and R. Whittaker were the captains. R. Whittaker's team won the match.

Miss E. Baraclough, who has been at Barrhead for the past four months, returned home last week.

Little Shirley Whittaker has been ill this week but is improving. Mrs. T. Wharton is still very ill.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Cramer and Mrs. McWilliam and son of Edmonton spent the Easter holidays at the P. Brant home.

Mrs. H. Bemis went to Edmonton this week, where she intends to visit her sister for a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Borle visited relatives at Lac la Nonne on Friday.

Seek Remains of First Men to Come From Asia Into America

Schooner off on Archaelogical Trip to the Aleutian Islands—Is British Ship Backed by U.S. Capital

SEATTLE, April 17—En route to Alaska in search of traces of the remains of the first men believed to have crossed from Asia and inhabit North America, the two-masted British auxiliary powered schooner Effie M. Morrissey, operating on behalf of the American Museum of Natural History, arrived in Seattle from New York.

The cruise, officially known as the Stoll-McCracken Siberian Arctic expedition of the American Museum of Natural History, is being financed by C. H. Stoll, New York lawyer and big game hunter.

The Aleutian islands will be the scene of operations where archaelogical research will be made in an effort to discover entombed mummies which are said to be older than the mummies preserved in the pyramids of Egypt.

After a cruise along the Aleutian islands, the Morrissey will go to Arctic Siberia, where a search will be made for new and strange mammals. The members of the expedition are now on their way from New York to Prince Rupert, B.C., where they will join the exploration ship.

The marriage of Mr. A. Tegnander, of Viking, to Miss Marian Johnson, of Kelliher, Sask., formerly of Edmonton, was solemnized at St. John's Church, Saskatoon, Sask., by the Rev. Dr. Armitage. The newly-weds will reside at Viking.

At a meeting of the Viking and Birch Lake district Agricultural Society Saturday it was decided to hold a one-day fair on August 16, instead of a two-day fair as has been the custom. The day will be purely an agricultural one, the only sports to be held originating on the farm, such as horse races, pony races and stampede events. Geo. A. Loades is president, and H. A. Meredith, secretary. The society also decided to hold its annual sports day on Monday, July 2, when a basebal tournament will be a feature. The local Elks are arranging for carnival features in connection with the sports day, and nothing will be left undone to make it a real gala celebration.

Pine Creek W.I. Holds Successful Gathering

Exclusive to Bulletin

WASKATENAU, April 17.—Dr. R. J. Huckell and Mrs. Huckell and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis spent the fore part of last week in Edmonton, guests at the Macdonald hotel. They report the roads for motoring negotiable but very rough.

Mr. Clark Allan has returned from a month's visit in Saskatoon, much improved in health.

Mrs. W. C. Patterson, accompanied from Edmonton by her sister, Miss Gladys Emes, who is teaching at Peace River, spent Easter week with her parents in Medicine Hat.

Miss Beatrice Petterly, R. N., who has been convalescing at her home here after a recent operation, has accepted a position in the Peace River hospital and left on Tuesday to take up her duties there.

The W. A. of All Saints' Church will give a tea on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. Dakin in honor of Mrs. Arthur Davis, one of their faithful workers, who is leaving for Vancouver, where Mr. Davis has accepted a position as bookkeeper for Mr. Gilbert Fowler and Brothers, one-time residents of Waskatenau.

At the well-attended monthly meeting of the Pine Creek Women's Institute, held on Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. B. G. Huckell, a very able paper on "Facts About Alberta" was given by Mrs. Leslie Phillips. A demonstration of made-over garments by Mrs. Jack Kidney revealed many previously unknown possibilities in that branch of sewing to her interested onlookers. At the conclusion, Mrs. Huckell, assisted by Mrs. W. Nicholl and Mrs. Jack Henry, served refreshments. Owing to the unavoidable absence of Mrs. Davis, it was decided that a small committee should make the presentation from the Institute to Mrs. Davis at her own home on Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. D. A. MacEachern kindly offered her home to the services of the Institute for the whist drive which is being held next Tuesday evening by the members and their husbands.

Many Attend Whist Drive at Warspite

Exclusive to Bulletin

WARSPITE, Alta., April 17.—A very successful whist drive was held in the hall on Friday night. Over one hundred people participated in the evening's entertainment given by the C.W. L. of Warspite, of which Mrs. James Carson is president.

Jack McMehan and Mrs. Otto Helium were winners of the first prize, and Gordon Anderson and Miss Josephine Doherty were awarded the booby prize. After supper dancing was enjoyed until midnight.

Nick Osadchuk, ferryman for the last few years at the Warspite Crossing, has gone back to his farm and is replaced by W. Anderson of Pakan. There were several applicants for the position.

Several hotels along the line are charged with keeping their bar parlors open on Good Friday contrary to the provisions of the Alberta Liquor Act amendment of 1927.

Two lots on the west side of Main street were sold last week; only two more on the east side remain unsold. Prospective purchasers of sites for business establishments will in future have to build on Railway avenue. Warspite is growing.

Among the visitors to Warspite for the week end were Miss Julia Carson, of St. Paul; Mr. and Mrs. George Woodward, Victoria hotel, Waskatenau; Mr. and Mrs. Kostyniuk, of the Smoky Lake hotel; and Mr. Earl Lanyon, auctioneer, of Waskatenau.

New Modern School in Jeffrey District

Exclusive to Bulletin

JEFFREY, April 17.—Mrs. H. MacLachlan departed Friday for Edmonton and will visit relatives at Calgary, Leduc, Hardisty and Edmonton.

Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Houg and family motored to New Norway Friday and will visit several days with relatives.

Dave Samis, Lawrence Patry, Miss Rosie Lynch, Miss Babe Gaughen and Mrs. F. D. Williams motored to Edmonton on Thursday. Miss Lynch, who has been visiting at the L. N. Patry home for the past few days, returned Thursday to the L. J. Samis home near Excelsior.

Mr. Cunningham motored out from Edmonton on Thursday and met with the trustees of Island Lake school 1819 on Thursday night and discussed plans for the erection of a modern school.

James Ansalmo and his sister Nellie, who have been at the Nigro farm, motored to Edmonton on Sunday.

The recent snows have made the roads bad.

BIG CREAMERY PLANNED FOR HIGH PRARIE

Exclusive to Bulletin

HIGH PRAIRIE, April 17.—The dance given by Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Spaulding Thursday on the opening of new wing of Spaulding hotel proved to be one of the largest dances and an outstanding event in the history of High Prairie. The hall was packed, making dancing at times almost impossible. At midnight Mr. and Mrs. Spaulding were presented with a very fine chimes clock. F. Pottage made the presentation on behalf of donors. Mr. Spaulding made a few touching remarks in reply.

J. H. Johnson, resident engineer, Peace River, was in town this week to meet Hon. Mr. McPherson and the deputy minister of public works who were expected to arrive on Friday's train. A wire advising their inability to come on this train was received. They will make an inspection of the highway east from Enilda.

Two cars of stock went out on the train Sunday in charge of C. C. Godbersen and W. D. Stewart.

At a general meeting of High Prairie cream producers Co. the following directors were elected:

S. Saville, president; C. S. Spaulding, vice-president; directors, J. H. Errson, O. S. Keay, M. Burger, L. C. Jobin, R. P. Butler. F. Pottage was appointed secretary-treasurer.

The company signed an agreement with the Woodland Dairy Co. to operate a creamery at this point. A contract to erect a building was awarded J. Moore, who will start operation on Monday. The Woodland have engaged a manager and have ordered the machinery. The company propose to make High Prairie the distributing point for their Peace River business.

New Presbyterian Pastor, Sylvan Lake

Exclusive to Bulletin

SYLVAN LAKE, April 17.—Rev. Davis, formerly of Wales, has been appointed to supply the pulpit of the local Presbyterian church, succeeding Rev. O. E. Mann, who reecntly took charge of the church at Rocky Mountain House. Rev. Mr. Davis will also preach every Sunday morning at Eraits.

Messrs. W. Mills, E. Ohland, E. Dingman and Louis Johnson expect to leave shortly to reside in the Peace River district.

The Young People's Society of the Union Sunday school held a successful meeting at the church on Saturday evening last. Will O. Mackay, superintendent of the Sunday school, presided, and the feature of the evening was a splendidly prepared address by Mr. A. M. Steele on the subject of "Who's Who and Why?" In his address Mr. Steele gave an outline of the history of the People of Israel from ancient times to the present. Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the lecture and the collection received goes to the missionary funds of the Sunday School.

The Sylvan Lake Minstrel association has been fully reorganized and on Friday, April 20 will present their 1928 revue.

A. Matheson and Miss T. Crawford of the Sylvan Lake school staff attended the convention of School Teachers in Calgary.

Capt. Oaks, Winnipeg Flier, Is Decorated

OTTAWA, April 17.—The J. Dalzell McKee "Trans-Canada trophy" for meritorious service in the advancement of aviation in Canada, has been awarded for the year to Captain H. A. "Doc" Oaks.

During 1927 Captain Oaks was manager of the Western Canada Airways, with headquarters in Winnipeg, and under his direction great strides have been made in the organization of efficient flying services in Northern Ontario, Manitoba and Saskatchewan.

The world's largest spider is found in Sumatra. Its body is nine inches in circumference, and its legs spread 17 inches.

ACID STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

Sufferers from Indigestion
CUT THIS OUT

"Stomach trouble, dyspepsia, indigestion, sourness, gas, heartburn, food fermentation, etc., are caused nine times in ten by chronic acid stomach," says a well known authority.

Burning hydrochloric acid develops in the stomach at an alarming rate. The acid irritates and inflames the delicate stomach lining and often leads to gastritis or stomach ulcers. Don't dose an acid stomach with pepsin or artificial digestants that only give temporary relief from pain by driving the sour, fermenting food out of the stomach into the intestines.

Instead, neutralize or sweeten your acid stomach after meals with a little Bisurated Magnesia and not only will the pain vanish but your meals will digest naturally. There is nothing better than Bisurated Magnesia, to sweeten and settle an acid stomach. Your stomach acts and feels fine in just a few minutes. Bisurated Magnesia can be obtained from any reliable druggist in either powder or tablet form. It is safe, reliable, easy and pleasant to use, is not a laxative and is not at all expensive.
